KIRISH (fan doktori (DSc) dissertatsiyasi annotatsiyasi)

Dissertatsiya mavzusining dolzarbligi va zarurati. Jahon adabiyotshunosligida inson konsepsiyasi masalasi muhim muammolardan biri hisoblanadi. Ayniqsa, romanga tatbiqan bu muammo yanada dolzarblik va ustuvor ahamiyat kasb etadi. Zero, roman olamni bilish va baholashda insonni vosita, uning ehtiyoj va imkonlari, maqsad va intilishlarini esa asosiy mezon qilib oladi. Romannavis davr kishisining ruhiy-ma'naviy, ijtimoiy-axloqiy qadriyatlari asosida olam va odam munosabatlari, o'zining borliqdagi o'rni va maqomi, hayotiy maqsad va vazifalari yuzasidan qarashlarini tizimlashtiradi. Ayni shular inson badiiy konsepsiyasi asosini tashkil etib, romanning yaralish omili va natijasi deyilsa to'g'ri bo'ladi.

Dunyo adabiyotshunosligida inson konsepsiyasi – muayyan davr ijtimoiy-tarixiy, madaniy-ma'rifiy shart-sharoiti mahsuli sifatida o'rganiladi. Inson konsepsiyasi muammosi adabiyotning, xususan, romanning har bir davrda shaklan va mazmunan o'zgarishi, yangilanishini taqozo etuvchi kategoriya sifatida talqin qilinadi. Shunday ekan, mazkur muammoni tarixiy-nazariy aspektda o'rganish barobarida ma'lum bir davr adabiyoti, xususan, romanchiligining g'oyaviy-mazmuniy va poetik o'ziga xosligini baholash, rivojlanish tendensiyalarini aniqlash mumkin.

O'zbek adabiyotshunosligida mustaqillik davri romanchiligiga xos adabiy hodisalarni baholash, xalqimizni, xususan, yosh avlodni milliy adabiyotimizning estetik qudrati bilan kamol toptirish ustuvor ahamiyat kasb etadi. Prezidentimiz Sh.M.Mirziyoyev ta'kidlaganlaridek, "...adabiyot va san'atga, madaniyatga e'tibor – bu, avvalo, xalqimizga e'tibor, kelajagimizga e'tibor ekanini, buyuk shoirimiz Cho'lpon aytganidek, adabiyot va madaniyat yashasa, millat yashashi mumkinligini unutishga bizning aslo haqqimiz yo'q".¹ Mazkur vazifalar, avvalo, adabiyotimizda inson konsepsiyani o'rganish bilan amalga oshiriladi. Zotan mustaqillik davri o'zbek romanchiligi, avvalo, insonga bo'lgan munosabatning o'zgarishi, olam va odam munosabatlarini boshqa rakurslardan turib tasvirlashga urinish nuqtai nazaridan o'tgan davr adabiyotidan farqlanadi. Bu davr adabiyoti sho'ro tuzumi sharoitida ochilmay qolgan imkoniyatlarini ro'yobga chiqardi, inson hayoti va ruhiyatining ilgari xaspo'shlab o'tilgan yoki norasmiy taqiq ostida bo'lgan jihatlarini ham qalamga ola boshladi. Mazkur sharoit davr adabiyotida turfa inson konsepsiyalarining namoyon bo'lishiga, g'oyaviy-badiiy plyuralizm va shu asosda ijodiy raqobat muhiti shakllanishiga olib keldiki, bu badiiy tafakkur rivoji uchun juda muhim.

O'zbekiston Respublikasi Prezidentining 2017-yil 7-fevraldagi PF-4947-son "O'zbekiston Respublikasini yanada rivojlantirish bo'yicha Harakatlar strategiyasi to'g'risida", 2019-yil 29-apreldagi PF-5712-son "O'zbekiston Respublikasi Xalq ta'limi tizimini 2030-yilgacha rivojlantirish konsepsiyasini tasdiqlash to'g'risida"gi

Tadqiqotning respublika fan va texnologiyalari rivojlanishining ustuvor yo‘nalishlariga mosligi. Dissertatsiya respublika fan va texnologiyalari rivojlantirishning “Axborotlashgan jamiyat va demokratik davlatni ijtimoiy, iqtisodiy, madaniy, ma‘naviy-ma‘rifiy rivojlantirish, innovatsion iqtisodiyotni rivojlantirish” ustuvor yo‘nalishiga muvofiq bajarilgan.

Dissertatsiya mavzusi bo‘yicha xorijiy ilmiy tadqiqotlar sharhi¹. Jahon adabiyotshunosligida inson konsepsiyasi muammosi dunyoning yetakchi ilmiy markazlari va oliy ta‘lim muassasalari, jumladan, University of Indiana, University of Michigan (USA), Istanbul Üniversitesi, Ankara Üniversitesi (Turkiye), Universität Humboldt, Universität Bonn, Universität Frie (Germany), Parij University (France), Cambridge University (Greet Britain), Moskva davlat universiteti, Sankt-Peterburg davlat universiteti (Rossiya Federatsiyasi), O‘zbek tili, adabiyoti va folklori instituti, O‘zbekiston Milliy universiteti, Alisher Navoiy nomidagi Toshkent davlat o‘zbek tili va adabiyoti universiteti hamda Andijon davlat universiteti (O‘zbekiston)da ilmiy-amaliy tadqiqotlar olib borilmoqda.

roman janrining vujudga kelishi, avvalo, insonga bo‘lgan munosabatning o‘zgarishi, adabiyotda real shaxsning individual xarakter qirralarining tasvirlanishi natijasi ekani aniqlangan (Cambrige University, Oxford University); adabiyotni, xususan, roman janri evolyutsiyasini davrlashtirish inson konsepsiyasi asosida kechishi isbotlangan (Moskva davlat universiteti, Sankt-Peterburg davlat universiteti); Milliy adabiyotimizga roman janrining kirib kelishi nafaqat tashqi ta'sirlar natijasi, balki mintaqada, ijtimoiy ongda yangi inson konsepsiyasiga ehtiyoj tug'ilishi bilan bog'liq ekani aniqlangan (O'zbek tili, adabiyoti va folklori instituti, O'zbekiston Milliy universiteti, Andijon davlat universiteti).

jahon adabiyotshunosligida inson konsepsiyasi bo'yicha quyidagi ustuvor yo'nalishlarda tadqiqotlar olib boriladi: badiiy tafakkur taraqqiyoti va inson konsepsiyasining o'zaro aloqadorlikda rivojlanishi xususiyatlarini aniqlash; badiiy asarni baholashda inson konsepsiyasining muhim xususiyatlarini aniqlash. Xususan, bu yo'nalishlar romanga tatbiqan yana muhim ahamiyat kasb etadi. Sababi odam va olam munosabatlarini bilish ustiga bunyod bo'ladi. Mustaqillik davri o'zbek romanlarining ayni shu nuqtai nazardan tadqiq etilishi, davr adabiyoti xos muhim tendensiyalarni aniqlab beradi.

Muammoning o'rganilganlik darajasi. Jahonda, xususan, rus adabiyotshunosligida inson konsepsiyasi muammosi atroflicha tadqiq etilgan¹. Rus adabiyotshunosi L.Timofeyev o'tgan asrning 50-yillarida yozilgan ilmiy ishlarida ilk bor "shaxs konsepsiyasi" atamasini qo'llaydi. Keyinroq olim "Shaxsni o'rganishning estetik yo'llari (Sovet adabiyoti tajribasidan)" (1975) nomli asarida yangi tipdagi qahramonlarning shakllanishi va milliy xarakter xususiyatlarini tadqiq etib, inqilobdan keyingi adabiyotdagi shaxsning yangi konsepsiyasi va o'ziga xosliklari bo'yicha samarali izlanishlar olib boradi. Olimning tadqiqotlari shaxs konsepsiyasi muammosining o'rganilishi muhim nazariy xulosalarga zamin yaratishi, adabiyot tarixi va nazariyasiga oid masalalarga yechim topishga yordam berishini ko'rsatdi.

Adabiyotshunos S.Bocharov inson konsepsiyasiga badiiy asarning, umuman, ijodiy jarayonning markaziy muammolaridan biri sifatida qaraydi. L.Ginzburgning "Adabiy qahramon to'g'risida" (1979), "Adabiyot reallikni qidirish yo'lida" (1987) nomli monografiyalarida esa inson konsepsiyasi adabiyotshunoslikning muhim kategoriyasi sifatida nazariy asoslandi. A.Urmanov o'zining "A.Soljenitsin nasri poetikasi" nomli doktorlik dissertatsiyasida atamani "shaxsning badiiy konsepsiyasi" shaklida qo'llaydi va uni "yozuvchining inson mohiyati, uning mavjudlikdagi maqsadi va ma'nosi, insoniylik fitratiga xos bo'lgan unsurlarga qanchalik yaqin (yoki uzoq) ekanligi haqidagi estetik tasavvurlari majmui"² sifatida tushuntiradi.

Inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasining qaror topishi va tizimli tadqiq etila boshlashida L.Kolobayevaning “XIX – XX asrlar oralig‘i rus adabiyotida shaxs konsepsiyasi”¹ monografiyasi ahamiyatli. Olima A.Chexov, M.Gorkiy, I.Bunin, A.Blok, L.Andreyev kabi ijodkorlarning asarlari misolida inson konsepsiyasining rus adabiyotida shakllanishi va tadrijiy taraqqiyotini ko‘rsatib beradi.

1980-yili Armanistonning Yerevan shahrida sho‘ro adabiyotida shaxs konsepsiyasi muammosiga bag‘ishlangan yirik anjuman bo‘lib o‘tgani ham ahamiyatga molik². Anjumanda N.Gey, Yu.Borev, S.Agabayan, G.Alibekova, S.Sariyan, M.Shukurov, N.Vorobeva, G.Xusainov, L.Kirakoyan, S.Xitarova, V.Shyerbinna kabi yirik adabiyotshunoslar ishtirok etib mazkur adabiy muammoni atroflicha yoritadilar.

O‘zbek adabiyotshunosligida inson konsepsiyasi muammosini monografik planda o‘rganish mustaqillikdan so‘ng boshlandi³. Bu mavzuda H.Karimovning “Hozirgi o‘zbek nasrida hayot haqiqati va inson konsepsiyasi (70 — 80-yillar)” nomli tadqiqoti diqqatga molik. Olim faqat dissertatsiya mavzusida ko‘rsatilgan davr bilan cheklanib qolmay, umuman, zamonaviy o‘zbek adabiyotida shaxs konsepsiyasi ifodasiga doir muhim xulosalarga keladi. U 30-, 40-, 50-yillar o‘zbek nasriga xos tendensiyalarni sanab kelarkan, “katta sifat o‘zgarishi” 60-yillar so‘ngiga kelibgina ro‘y berganini qayd etadi. Uningcha, shu davrdan “yangicha konsepsiyadagi shaxs, yangi tipdagi konflikt va xarakterlar yuzaga keldi”. Olim adabiyotdagi mazkur o‘ziga xosliklar eng avvalo inson obrazida namoyon bo‘lganini aytib, “inson konsepsiyasida davr va jamiyatning butun borlig‘i — rivoji, zamon talabi asosida tug‘ilgan ziddiyatlar, problemalar, negativ holatlar o‘z ifodasini topadi”⁴ deya ta’kidlaydi.

Mavzuga doir muhim tadqiqotlardan yana biri M.Muhiddinovning “Alisher Navoiy va uning salaflari ijodida inson konsepsiyasi” nomli dissertatsiyasi hisoblanadi. Mazkur ishda inson konsepsiyasi muammosi mumtoz adabiyot namunalari, tasavvuf g‘oyalari asosida ochib beriladi.

Yuqoridagilardan tashqari, S.Matyaqupovning “Hozirgi o‘zbek hikoyalarida inson konsepsiyasi va shaxs badiiy talqini”, M.Jo‘rayevaning “Zamonaviy o‘zbek nasrida yangi inson konsepsiyasi (Abduqayum Yo‘ldoshev va Zulfiya Qurolboy qizi hikoyalari asosida)”, N.Qobulovanning “Erkin A‘zam nasrida davr va inson konsepsiyasi” nomli dissertatsiyalarida ham adabiy hodisalar inson konsepsiyasi muammosi kontekstida o‘rganilgan.

Mustaqillik davri o'zbek romanlari yaxlit tizim va tadrijiylikda inson konsepsiyasi muammosi doirasida haligacha tadqiq qilinmagan.

Tadqiqot mavzusining dissertatsiya bajarilgan oliy ta'lim muassasasi ilmiy-tadqiqot ishlari rejalari bilan bog'liqligi. Tadqiqot Andijon davlat universiteti O'zbek adabiyotshunosligi kafedrasining ilmiy-tadqiqot ishlari rejasiga muvofiq "O'zbek adabiyotshunosligining dolzarb masalalari" mavzusi doirasida bajarilgan.

Tadqiqotning maqsadi o'zbek romanchiligining tarixiy taraqqiyot yo'lini inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasi aspektida tadrijiy o'rganish, mustaqillik davri romanlarining badiiy-g'oyaviy shakllanishida muhim rol o'ynagan badiiy, ijtimoiy, ruhiy, ma'naviy omillarni aniqlash va o'zbek romanchiligiga xos insonning yaxlit romanii portretini yaratishdan iborat.

Tadqiqotning vazifalari. Ko'zlangan maqsadga erishish uchun quyidagi vazifalarni hal qilish belgilandi:

inson konsepsiyasi adabiyotning, jumladan, roman janrining markaziy muammosi ekanini dalillash, roman janrining taraqqiyotini inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasi kontekstida ko'rib chiqish;

mustaqillik davri o'zbek romanchiligiga xos adabiy tendensiyalar ko'p jihatdan sho'rolar davri o'zbek romanchiligi an'analari bilan tutashishini inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasi asosida ochib berish;

mustaqillik davri o'zbek romanchiligining nafaqat estetik hodisa, balki ayni paytda ijtimoiy-badiiy hodisa ekanini inson konsepsiyasi nuqtai nazaridan asoslash;

mustaqillik davri o'zbek romanchiligini inson konsepsiyasidan kelib chiqqan holda davrlashtirish va har bir davriy bosqichga xos adabiy tendensiyalarni belgilash;

o'tish davri romanchiligini ijtimoiy-adabiy hodisa sifatida maxsus o'rganish, inson konsepsiyasining davr adabiyotiga xos tendensiyalarning shakllanishidagi ahamiyatini ochib berish;

sotsialistik va kapitalistik tuzumlarga xos ijtimoiy-iqtisodiy shart-sharoitning inson badiiy konsepsiyasiga, romanchilikdagi adabiy tamoyillarga ta'sirini ochib berish;

o'zbek modern romanchiligiga xos adabiy tendensiyalarni inson konsepsiyasi doirasida o'rganish, absurd odam konsepsiyasining o'zbek adabiyotidagi eksperimental tatbiqlarini o'rganish;

o'zbek postmodern romanchiligi va unga xos adabiy tamoyillarni inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasi asosida belgilash.

Tadqiqotning obyekti sifatida sho'ro hamda mustaqillik davrida yaratilgan Oybekning "Navoiy", Said Ahmadning "Jimjitlik", O.Yoqubovning "Adolat manzili", Sh.Xolmirzayevning "Dinozavr", O'.Hoshimovning "Tushda kechgan umrlar", Omon Muxtorning "Ming bir qiyofa", Murod Muhammad Do'stning "Lolazor", Erkin A'zamning "Shovqin", Ahmad A'zamning "Ro'yo", Tog'ay Murodning "Otamdan qolgan dalalar", "Bu dunyoda o'lib bo'lmaydi", Nazar Eshonqulning "Go'ro'g'li", Luqmon Bo'rixonning "Jaziramadagi odamlar", Ulug'bek Hamdamning "Muvozanat", "Yo'l", Isajon Sultonning "Alisher Navoiy", "Boqiy darbadar", "Ozod" romanlari asosiy manba bo'lib xizmat qiladi.

Tadqiqotning predmetini mustaqillik davri o'zbek romanlarida inson konsepsiyasining yangilanishi, uning sho'ro davri romanchiligidagi inson konsepsiyasi bilan munosabati; yangilanish jarayoniga ta'sir qilgan omillar, bunda jahon badiiy va ijtimoiy-falsafiy tafakkurining roli va ahamiyati kabi masalalar tashkil etadi.

Tadqiqotning usullari. Tadqiqotda qiyosiy, qiyosiy-tipologik, tarixiy-nazariy tahlil, sotsiologik va germeneytik tahlil usullaridan foydalanildi.

Tadqiqotning ilmiy yangiligi:

roman janrining vujudga kelishi va taraqqiyotida, janrning ikki ming yillik tarixiy bosqichlarini belgilashda, uni tushunish va tushuntirishda inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasi eng muhim omil ekani dalillangan;

o'zbek romanchiligining vujudga kelishi tarixiy shart-sharoit va ijtimoiy tafakkurda inson konsepsiyasining o'zgarishi hamda adabiyotda yangi insonning badiiy ifoda etilishiga ehtiyoj paydo bo'lishi bilan bevosita aloqador ekanligi isbotlangan;

sho'rolar tuzumining tanazzuli yangi inson konsepsiyasining vujudga kelishi uchun imkon bergani hamda mustaqillik davri romanchiligi uchun poydevor yaratgani asoslab berilgan;

o'tish davri romanchiligiga xos adabiy tendensiyalarning shu davrga xos ijtimoiy shart-sharoit va inson konsepsiyasi bobidagi izlanishlar bilan uzviy aloqadorligi ochib berilgan;

roman janrining vujudga kelishi va taraqqiyotida, janrning ikki ming yillik tarixiy bosqichlarini belgilashda, uni tushunish va tushuntirishda inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasi eng muhim omil ekani dalillangan ilmiy xulosalari "Adabiyotshunoslikning nazariy kurslari bo'yicha o'quv adabiyotlarining yangi avlodini yaratish" mavzusidagi OT-A1-46 raqamli ilmiy texnik loyiha ishida qo'llanilgan. Dissertant "Adabiyotshunoslik lug'ati"ga kiritilgan roman, konsepsiya, badiiy konsepsiya, badiiy obraz, badiiy obraz turlari, inson obrazi terminlari uchun illyustrativ materiallar tayyorlagan. Bu materiallardan lug'atga kiritilgan istilohlarni izohlashda foydalanilgan (Andijon davlat universitetining 2024-yil, 11-sentyabrdagi 32-01-837-sonli ma'lumotnomasi). DISSERTATSIYANING ASOSIY MAZMUNI

Kirish qismida tadqiqot mavzusining dolzarbligi va zarurati asoslangan, dissertatsiya ishining maqsad va vazifalari, obykti va predmeti bayon qilingan, respublika fan va texnologiyalari rivojlanishining ustuvor yo’nalishlariga mosligi ko’rsatilgan, tadqiqotning ilmiy yangiligi va amaliy natijalari bayon qilingan, olingan natijalarning ilmiy va amaliy ahamiyati ochib berilgan, tadqiqot natijalarining amaliyotga joriy qilinishi, aprobatsiyasi, tadqiqotning tuzilishi va hajmi ko’rsatilgan.

Dissertatsiyaning birinchi bobi “Inson konsepsiyasi adabiyotshunoslikning muhim nazariy muammosi sifatida” deb nomlangan bo’lib, ikki fasldan iborat. Bobning “Badiiy tafakkur evolyutsiyasi va inson talqini” nomli ilk faslida insoniyat madaniy tarixida badiiy tafakkurning tadrijiy taraqqiy etishi hamda shu jarayon bilan uzviy ravishda shakllangan inson konsepsiyasi muammosi tadqiq etiladi.

Tarixning har bir yangi davri insonning borliqdagi o’rni, uning hayotiy maqsad va vazifalarini o’ziga xos tarzda tushunish hamda talqin qilish evaziga vujudga kelgan. Zero, insoniyat o’zi haqidagi tasavvurlari, xulosalariga tayanib munosabatga kirishadi, jamiyatlarni quradi.

Adabiyotshunoslikka oid asarlarda badiiy adabiyotning bosh vazifasi sifatida bilish (evristik) funksiyasi qayd etiladi. Adabiyot borliqni, undagi voqea-hodisalarni, jumladan, insonni o’rganish maqsadi ustiga bunyod bo’lgan: “Badiiy adabiyot borliqni obrazlar vositasida badiiy idrok qilish orqali bizning olam, odam, jamiyat haqidagi bilim va tasavvurlarimizni boyitadi”¹. O’zining bu vazifasini amalga oshirish yo’lida adabiyot voqea-hodisalar markaziga insonni qo’ydi.

Adabiyot olam va odam munosabatlarining yaxlit badiiy modelini yaratgan holda, turli ijodiy eksperimentlar vositasida savollarga javob izlash, o’z xulosalarini “tirik” obrazlar orqali ko‘rsatish imkoniga ega. Ayni shu jihat, ya’ni badiiy adabiyotning muayyan bir asar, ijodkor yoki davrda insonning olamdagi maqomi, maqsad va vazifalari yuzasidan chiqargan yaxlit hukmi inson konsepsiyasidir.

Adabiyotshunos Mixail Golberg inson konsepsiyasiga shunday ta’rif beradi: “Inson konsepsiyasi juda ham keng qamrovli kategoriya bo‘lib, odamning olam va dunyoqarash, mafkura, axloq, estetik aloqalar hamda o‘zaro boshqa munosabat shakllarining ichki mohiyati majmui sifatida namoyon bo‘ladi”¹. Ko‘rinadiki, ijodkor olam haqidagi kompleksli, yaxlit hukmga inson konsepsiyasi orqali yetib boradi.

Inson konsepsiyasi badiiy asarni baholashda qanchalar muhim bo‘lmasin, adabiyotshunoslikda alohida kategoriya sifatida nisbatan kam o‘rganilgan. Adabiyotshunoslik nazariyasiga oid kitoblarda mazkur kategoriya ta’rifiga deyarli to‘xtalinmagan, adabiyotshunoslik terminlar lug‘atida ham uchramaydi. Bizningcha, bu inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasining odatda badiiy konsepsiya tarkibida ko‘rilgani bilan bog‘liq.

Rus adabiyotshunosligida inson konsepsiyasi istilohini ilk bor o‘tgan asrning 50-yillarida L.Timofeyev qo‘llaydi. Shu davrdan boshlab, turli tadqiqotlarda bu tushunchaga bot-bot duch kelish mumkin bo‘ldi.

Inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasiga xos bo‘lgan yana bir muhim jihat shuki, biz uning vositasida adabiyotni davrlashtirish va baholash imkoniga egamiz. Zero badiiy tafakkur inson tafakkuri, uning ijtimoiy maqomi bilan o‘zaro aloqadorlikda rivojlanadi. Ya’ni insonning tarix sahnasidagi ijtimoiy, madaniy, iqtisodiy, siyosiy taraqqiyoti to‘g‘ridan-to‘g‘ri badiiy adabiyotga ko‘chib o‘tadi. Bizning muayyan ijtimoiy shart-sharoitda shakllangan dunyoqarashimiz, borliqdagi o‘rnimizni qanday belgilashimiz shu davr paradigmasini shakllantiradi. Shakllangan yangi paradigma esa konseptual ravishda, avvalo, badiiy adabiyotda bo‘y ko‘rsatadi.

Mashhur fin olimi P.Kuusi insoniyatning madaniy evolyutsiyasini quyidagi uch yirik bosqichda tasniflaydi:

1. Ovchi va terimchilar madaniyati;
2. Agrar madaniyat;
3. Ilmiy-texnologik madaniyat².

Mazkur uch madaniy bosqich va shu davrlarga xos ijtimoiy shart-sharoit estetik tafakkur taraqqiyotini o‘rganishimizda muhim ahamiyat kasb etadi. Sababi estetik tafakkur insonning mazkur zamonlardagi hayotiy maqsadlari va ideallari asosida shakllangan. Shunday ekan, adabiyotni davrlashtirish masalasida ham, xuddi, insoniyatning tarixiy-madaniy bosqichlari kabi uch davr mavjud. Bular arxaik, traditsionalistik va individual-ijodiy adabiy bosqichlardir³.

Arxaik bosqichda san'at bir butun hodisa bo'lgan (xuddi odamlar jamoaviy yashagani, alohida shaxs ehtiyojlari ajralmagani kabi). Bu davrda san'atning turlari, umuman, ularni turlarga ajratuvchi chegara mavjud emasdi. Arxaik bosqichda inson tafakkurining hali bo'linmaganligi, paleolit davrining shart-sharoitlari, jamoaviy hayot tarzi bilan bevosita bog'liq. Zero bu davrda inson ongi serqirra ijtimoiy munosabatlar asosida emas, tabiatning tabiiy hodisalari, tabiiy shart-sharoitlari ta'sirida rivojlangan.

Adabiyotning keyingi bosqichi – traditsionalizmning nisbatan uzoq davom etgani asrlar davomida ijtimoiy shart-sharoitning deyarli o'zgarmagani, feodal tuzumning barqarorligi, mustahkam diniy e'tiqod, jamiyatlararo kommunikatsiyaning sustligi, ilm-fan inqilobining "kechikkani" kabi qator omillar bilan bog'lanadi. Traditsionalizmni farqlovchi eng muhim jihat ijodiy jarayonda an'anaviylikning ustun turishidir. An'anaviylikning asosiy sababi esa inson konsepsiyasiga doir hukmlarning mutlaq ekani bilan izohlanadi. Ya'ni ijodkorning inson xususidagi qarashlari shu davrga xos adabiy kanonlar doirasidan chetlashishi mumkin emas edi. Agar shunday qilinsa, bu nafaqat san'atga xilof ish, balki e'tiqodiy jihatdan ham osiylikdir. Binobarin, bu davrda boshqa sohalar kabi san'at ham dindan tashqarida mavjud bo'la olmas edi.

Mumtoz adabiyotda estetik tasavvurlar etikadan ajratilmagani¹ ham davrga xos inson konsepsiyasi bilan bog'liq. Zero mumtoz mutafakkirlar nazdida insonning asl go'zalligi ma'naviy go'zallikdir. Shu kabi omillar sabab bu davrda insonning realistik tasviri badiiy qiymatga ega emasdi.

Individual-ijodiy badiiy tafakkur bosqichning asosiy farqlovchi xususiyati asarda real ijtimoiy shaxs – individ kechinmalari, unga xos nuqtai nazarining ifodalanishidir.

Individual-ijodiy badiiy tafakkur zamonaviy o'zbek adabiyoti deb ataluvchi katta bir bosqichni qamrab olgan bo'sa-da, bu bosqichning o'zi ham bir necha davrlarga ajralishini unutmashimiz darkor. Zero, XX hamda XXI asrga xos ko'plab umumiy qonuniyatlar asosida shakllangan individual-ijodiy badiiy tafakkur, shu davrlarning turli ijtimoiy shart-sharoitida vujudga kelgan inson konsepsiyasi ta'sirida vujudga kelgan ichki bosqichlarga ham ega.

Adabiyotshunosligimizda yangi o'zbek adabiyoti davri uchta adabiy asrga bo'linadi: 1) o'zbek jadid adabiyoti; 2) sho'ro davri o'zbek adabiyoti; 3) istiqlol davri o'zbek adabiyoti². Bir qarashda, mazkur tasnifning asosi sifatida davr ijtimoiy shart-sharoiti, adabiy avlodlar, badiiy tafakkur va ifodadagi o'ziga xoslik ko'riladi. Biroq, sanalgan omillarning negizida ham inson konsepsiyasi turishini nazardan qochirmaslik zarur.

O'zbek jadid adabiyoti nafaqat mumtoz adabiy an'analarni inkor qilish, balki insonning yangi badiiy konsepsiyasini taqdim etish bilan qaror topdi. Jadidlar yaratgan inson konsepsiyasining markazida esa milliy istiqlol va ma'rifatparvarlik g'oyalari turadi.

XX asr avvalida an'anaviy qoliplar ta'siridan chiqqan ijodkor olamni individual tarzda badiiy idrok qila boshladi. Badiiy mushohada obyekti san'atkor ko'nglidan chiqib, tashqi olamga ko'chib o'tdi. Ya'ni adabiyot voqelikka, ijtimoiy hayotga yuzlanadi. Bu esa tabiiy ravishda badiiy obrazning, tasvirlanayotgan voqea-hodisalarning realistik ifodasini talab qilar edi. Shu ma'noda biz Cho'lponning "Qurboni jaholat", "Do'xtir Muhammadyor", Qodiriyning "Juvonboz", "Uloqda" kabi hikoyalari, Hamzaning "Yangi saodat", Ayniyning "Buxoro jallodlari" qissalari, Qodiriyning "O'tgan kunlar", Cho'lponning "Kecha va kunduz" romanlariga nafaqat o'zbek nasrining tamal toshi, balki adabiyotimizda zamonaviy inson konsepsiyasining asosi sifatida qarashimiz mumkin. Sho'ro davri o'zbek adabiyoti" deya ataluvchi yetmish yillik adabiy zamon yagona mafkura va yagona metod ta'sirida o'tgan bo'lsa-da, unda inson konsepsiyasining turli talqinlarini uchratish mumkin. Sababi, mazkur bosqichda ijodkor siyosiy-ijtimoiy, g'oyaviy-badiiy jihatdan turli davrlarda, turli ideallar bilan yashadi.

Mustaqillikning dastlabki yillarida milliy romanchiligimizda 80-yillar so'ngida shakllangan adabiy-g'oyaviy tendensiya davom etdi. Ya'ni inson konsepsiyasining markazida erk va o'zlikni anglashga, mutelik asoratlaridan to'la xalos bo'lishga intilayotgan qahramon tasvirlandi. Bizningcha, ayni shu muammo hali hamon milliy romanchiligimiz, jumladan, inson konsepsiyasining markazida turibdi. Haligacha o'zlikni anglash, tom ma'noda erkin shaxs va jamiyatni tarbiyalash romannavislirimizning og'riqli muammosi sifatida yashab kelmoqda.

Ko'rinadiki, adabiyot tarixiy ijtimoiy shart-sharoit, badiiy tafakkur va inson konsepsiyasining uyg'un, yaxlit hosilasi. Inson konsepsiyasini baholash badiiy asar, jumladan, roman mohiyatini anglashning muhim kalitidir.

Bobning "Inson konsepsiyasi romaniy tafakkurning negizi sifatida" nomli faslida roman janrining vujudga kelishi va taraqqiyotida inson konsepsiyasining naqadar muhim ahamiyat kasb etishi haqida so'z boradi.

Roman – mazmun-mohiyati, ifoda imkonlari bilan hayotga, shu jumladan, ijtimoiy odamga eng yaqin janr. Zero roman insonni yaxlit ijtimoiy tuzilmalar kontekstida ko'rsatish, olam va odam munosabatlarini yirik epik ko'lamda, bor murakkabligi bilan tasvirlash qudratiga ega yagona janrdir.

Roman insoniyat o'zini ijtimoiy mavjudot sifatida badiiy idrok etish ehtiyoji tug'ilgan pallada vujudga kelgan. Romanni vujudga keltirgan tarixiy shart-sharoitdan tortib keyingi davrlarda uning evolyutsion taraqqiyotini ta'minlagan omillargacha, yaxlit janr sifatida namoyon etuvchi unsurlaridan tortib g'oyaviy-estetik mohiyatini belgilovchi alomatlarigacha inson konsepsiyasi muammosi bilan chambarchas bog'liq. Boshqacha aytganda, markazida inson turuvchi romanning shakli ham, mazmuni ham uning bosh qahramoni – odamning tarixiy-ijtimoiy portretidan o'sib chiqadi. Demak, roman nazariyasining tarixiy taraqqiyot yo'lini tadrijiy yoritish orqali, bir vaqtda janr mohiyatini ochib berish hamda uning markazida inson konsepsiyasi muammosi turishini isbotlash mumkin.

M.Baxtin romanga “shakllanayotgan va hali tayyor holga kelmagan yagona janr” deya tarif beradi¹. Mana, qariyb to‘rt asrki janrga xos muammolar G‘arb olimlari (D.Yue, F.Blankenburch, F.Shelling, Jan Pol, F.Shlegel, Novalis, F.Gegel, V.Belinskiy, A.Veselovskiy, A.Potebnya, B.Grifsov, D.Lukach, M.Baxtin, V.Kojinov, N.Rimar, T.Pavel va h.k.) tomonidan faol o‘rganib kelinmoqda. Biroq haligacha, romanning janriy xususiyatlarini aniq belgilab, muayyan qolipga solib beruvchi “formula” ixtiro qilingan emas.

Roman nazariyasiga doir yirik tadqiqotlarda aytilgan fikrlar bir vaqtning o‘zida turfa xil va ayni vaqtda mushtarak. Nazariy qarashlardagi turfalikni janrning asrlar davomida muntazam shakllanib kelgani bilan izohlash mumkin bo‘lsa, mushtaraklikni bosh muammoning hech qachon o‘zgarmagani bilan asoslash mumkin bo‘ladi. Ya’ni ming yillar davomida roman har qancha tuslanmasin, uning yagona, azaliy haqiqati – zamonaviy inson (shaxs)ni anglash muammosi hech qachon o‘zgarmadi. O‘ylaymizki, roman tabiatining haqqoniy va to‘la qonli bahosi ham janrga xos ayni shu maqsad – insonning badiiy konsepsiyasida mujassam etgan.

Roman taqdiri inson taqdirida yashaydi. Roman – shaxs qalbi va hayotiga tutilgan oyna. Zotan, insonga doir muammolar bir vaqtda romanga ham doir. Romanning tarixiy taraqqiyoti ijtimoiy munosabatlarning o‘sib borishi va shaxsning shakllanishi bilan tutashadi hamda parallel rivojlanadi. Shu ma’noda, roman evolyutsiyasini davrlashtirish, shaxs evolyutsiyasini davrlashtirish bilan barobar.

B.Grifsov roman taraqqiyotining to‘rt bosqichini sanaydi. Birinchisi, II – XII asrlar oraliq‘ida shakllangan yunon romani, ikkinchisi, XII – XV asrlardagi ritsarlik romanlari, uchinchisi, Ispaniyada XVI asrdan shakllangan parodik-ritsarlik (satirik) romanlar, to‘rtinchisi, XVII asrda avvaliga Fransiyada yuzaga kelib, keyincha butun Yevropa bo‘ylab tarqalgan yangi roman (burjua romani)².

Shu sababli ham adabiyotshunoslikda romanni o‘rganish insonni tarixiy-ijtimoiy kontekstda o‘rganish bilan hamkorlikda kechadi. Ya’ni roman o‘tmishning turli bosqichlarida insonga xos muammolarni o‘zida aks ettirgan va ayni shu insonga xos muammolarning qamrovi ortgan sari buni badiiy idrok etish maqsadida o‘zning ifodaviy imkonlarini ham kengaytirib borgan janrdir.

Roman janri tabiatini yaxshiroq ochish uchun nazariyotchilar odatda uni epos bilan qiyoslaydilar. Zero mohiyatan bir-biriga juda yaqin, olamni katta epik ko‘lamda badiiy aks ettirishni ko‘zlaydigan bu ikki janr kishilik jamiyatini turli, aytish mumkinki, o‘zaro ziddiyatli bosqichlari mahsulidir.

Epos – real, ijtimoiy dunyoning in’ikosi emas. Epos – ijtimoiy munosabatlar hali mustahkam qaror topmagan, alohida shaxs (indivud) qadri ahamiyat kasb etmagan davrlardagi xalqning ideal dunyo haqidagi tasavvurlari mahsuli. Shu sababli epos qahramonida individual shaxs elementlari mavjud emas. U – shaklan odam, mazmun-mohiyati bilan esa ideal. Romanni belgilovchi eng muhim omil esa shaxs (indivud) tasviridir. Roman, qachonki, qahramonda alohida shaxsga xos muammolar, nuqtai nazar va xarakter qirralari ko‘rina boshlaganda yoki subyekt (muallif)ning o'zi tasvirlayotgan voqelikka nisbatan individual (shaxsiy) munosabati hamda kinoyaviy qarashlari bo'rtib ko'rina boshlagan kezlarda eposdan ajralib chiqdi.

Roman nazariyasiga doir eng dastlabki asar muallifi Pyer-Daniel Yue epos va romanni farqlashga harakat qiladi. Uningcha, “epos ko'proq mo'jizaviy voqelikni qamrab oladi, roman esa haqiqatga yaqin turadi”¹.

Nikola Bualo ham roman real hayotni va real insonni tasvirlashi bilan eposdan farq qilishini alohida qayd etadi.

Nemis mutafakkiri F.Blankenburgning “Roman haqida tajriba” (1774) risolasi nemis adabiyotshunosligida roman janrini tizimli o'rganishga qaratilgan ilk asar hisoblanadi. Yuedan farqli o'laroq, Blankenburg masala mohiyatiga chuqurroq kiradi va roman tabiatini tarixiy-ijtimoiylik nuqtai nazaridan kengroq yoritadi. Agar Yue roman qahramonida sevgi qissasining real odamga monand qiyofasini ko'rgan bo'lsa, Blankenburg bunga qo'shimcha, roman qahramonida o'z davriga xos ijtimoiy xususiyatlarni singdirgan, shu bilan birga individual xarakter qirralari bilan namoyon bo'lgan shaxsni ko'radi. U romanda qahramon ham ichki, ham tashqi dunyosi bilan namoyon bo'lishi, mahoratli adib o'z qahramoni ruhiyatida kechgan evrilishlarni tashqi voqelik bilan aloqadorlikda tasvirlashi lozimligi haqida yozadi².

Gegel romandagi inson konsepsiyasi masalasiga yangi ma'no yuklaydi va roman insonni faqat ijtimoiy kontekstda – “prozaik munosabatlar” fonida tasvirlaydi degan xulosaga keladi. U romanda ham xuddi eposdagi kabi ko'p qirrali turmush va munosabatlar, “olamning keng, yaxlit, shuningdek, voqealarning epik tasviri” aks etishini, biroq unda “olamning dastlabki poetik holati” mavjud emasligini aytadi. “Dastlabki poetik holat” – bu poeziya va nasr hali bir butun hodisa bo'lgan, turmush shu ikki tur (poeziya va nasr)ning ziddiyatiga aylanmagan (Belinskiy), san'atning sinkretik (Veselovskiy) holati. Ya'ni Gegelga ko'ra, o'tmish va o'tmish san'ati bir so'z bilan “poeziya” bo'lsa, zamonaviy munosabatlar qaror topgan, yangi sivilizatsiya esa “proza”. Shu ma'noda roman “mavjudlikning nasriy barqarorligi”ni akslantiradi³.

Epos va romanning qiyosiy tahlilida biz ko'rib chiqqan barcha olimlarda muammo yuzasidan deyarli bir xil hukm-xulosaning turli shaklda aytilishini yoki nisbatan to'ldirilishini ko'ramiz. Biroq M.Baxtinga kelib mazkur “an'ana”ga barham beriladi, olim ikki janr tabiati va ularga xos inson konsepsiyasini zamon-makon butunligi – xronotop asosida farqlab beradi.

Eposning kompozitsion butunligida ham vaqt omili mavjud emas. Demak, eposga xos inson konsepsiyasida vaqt ahamiyatli sanalmaydi. Ya'ni epos qahramoni – to'kis qahramon. U bunday to'kislikka vaqt sinovlaridan o'tib yetishmagan, uning ma'naviy, jismoniy kamoloti vaqt xronologiyasi bilan bog'lanmagan. Shunday ekan, epos qahramonida real odamga monand biror belgi-alomat mavjud emas. U go‘yo boshqa vaqt o‘lchamidagi – boshqa olamga daxldor inson. Eposning tasvir obyekti “mutlaq o‘tmish” va shunga monand qahramon bo‘lgan.

Romandagi vaqt koordinatasi esa mutlaq o‘tmish emas, balki ayni zamon. Ya’ni san’atkorning o‘z mavjudligida vaqtni his qilishi va buni badiiy aks ettirishga urinishi, eng avvalo, insonning badiiy obrazi tasvirida tublik o‘zgarishlarga sabab bo‘ldi. Shu davrga kelib, tom ma’noda yangi inson konsepsiyasi tug‘ildi. Demak, shaxsni badiiy ifodalash uchun VAQT zarur. Zotan, shaxs ayni zamon mahsuli. O‘quvchi asar qahramoni – shaxsga qo‘l cho‘zib yetishi, uning dard-u tashvishlarini o‘zida his qilishi, tanqid qilishi yo ustidan kulishi uchun ham u bilan bir vaqt koordinatasida yashamog‘i zarur.

Agar Gegel romanning markazida jamiyat bilan ziddiyatda turgan qahramon – shaxsni ko‘rgan bo‘lsa, Baxtin bunga qo‘shimcha, nafaqat jamiyat bilan, balki o‘z-o‘zi, ruhiyati va taqdiri bilan ziddiyatda turgan insonni ko‘radi.

Uningcha, romanning markaziy muammolaridan biri “qahramonning o‘z taqdiri va mavqeyiga mos kelmasligi”dir. Shu ma’noda roman qahramoni har doim “yo o‘z taqdiridan balandroq, yo insoniyligidan pastroq”. Ya’ni hech qachon to‘kis emas.

Roman nazariyasiga doir tadqiqotlarni tadrijiy o‘rganib shunday xulosa chiqarish mumkinki, roman nazariyasi doirasida ham inson badiiy konsepsiyasining tadrijiy taraqqiyoti kuzatiladi. Buni quyidagi shaklda ifodalash mumkin:

Baxtinning inson konsepsiyasi yuzasidan qarashlari, hozircha, mazkur mavzu doirasidagi eng so‘ngi va muhim nazariy hukm bo‘lishi mumkin. Zotan Baxtin xronotopi biz yashab turgan to‘rt o‘lchamli fazoni qamrab oladi.

Dissertatsiyaning ikkinchi bobi “Ijtimoiy-tarixiy shart-sharoitlar va insonning badiiy talqini” deb nomlangan bo‘lib, ikki fasldan iborat. Bobning “Sho‘ro jamiyati tanazzuli va adabiyotda yangi inson ehtiyoji” nomli ilk faslida sobiq sho‘ro tuzumining so‘ngi yillaridagi adabiy tafakkur va unga xos inson konsepsiyasi masalasi o‘rganilgan.

Mustaqillik davri o'zbek romanlari tom ma'noda 80-yillar romanchiligining vorisidir¹. Zero yangi davr romanchiligi yuzi bo'lgan aksar yozuvchilarning adabiy-estetik qarashlari 70 – 80-yillarda shakllangan. Bundan tashqari, 90-yillar avvalida siyosiy, ijtimoiy shart-sharoit imkoni bilan ijodga kirib kelgan erkinlik epiklari ham aslida “qayta qurish” va “oshkoralik” davrlarida boshlangan. Xuddi shunday, istiqlol yillaridagi ijodiy eksperimentlar: modernistik, postmodernistik asarlarning ildizlari ham 80-yillar adabiyotiga borib tutashadi. Shunday ekan, mustaqillik davri romanchiligidagi inson konsepsiyasini to'laqonli o'rganish uchun, avvalo, Sho'ro jamiyati tanazzulga yuz tuta boshlagan va yangi inson konsepsiyasiga ehtiyoj tug'ilgan davrga qaytish, mazkur muammoning badiiy, ijtimoiy-ruhiy omillarini qidirish zaruratini his etamiz.

70-yillarga kelib sosrealizmning hayotni haqqoniy tasvirlash va chinakam san'at asarlarini yaratish yo'lidagi ojiz taraflari yaqqol ko'rina boshladi. Ijodkorning Sho'ro mafkurasi va real voqelik o'rtasidagi nomutanosiblikka ko'proq duch kela boshladi. Oshkora bo'lmasa-da, sekin-asta sosrealizm qoliplaridan chekinish, insonning hukmron mafkuraga u qadar mos bo'lmagan badiiy konsepsiyalarini yaratishga urinishlar kuzatildi.

1985-yilga kelib sobiq Ittifoqda siyosiy-ijtimoiy shart-sharoit o'zgardi, tarixda “qayta qurish” nomi bilan mashhur bo'lgan siyosiy bosqich boshlandi. Shunga mos ravishda adabiy-estetik qarashlar tublik o'zgarishga yuz tutdi. Boshqa tarafdin G'arb adabiyoti va san'ati uchun “yopiq eshiklari” ochildi. Lekin eng muhimi, yangi inson konsepsiyasini yaratish uchun ulkan ijtimoiy ehtiyoj – DARD pishib yetildi. Endi roman markazidan o'zini anglashga, o'zligini namoyon etishga chog'langan inson badiiy konsepsiyasi o'rin oldi.

Ishda Sho'ro tuzumining tanazzulga yuz tutgan so'ngi yillaridagi insonning badiiy talqinini o'rganish uchun Said Ahmadning “Jimjitlik”, Murod Muhammad Do'stning “Lolazor” romanlarini tanlab olingan. Bu ikki asar deyarli bir vaqtda yozilgani, badiiy voqeligida bir tarixiy davr aks ettirilgani, romanlarda qo'yilgan muammoning yechimi hukmron siyosiy elita va mavjud siyosiy tafakkurdan qidirilgani bilan juda o'xshash. Lekin asarlarda bir xil ijtimoiy shart-sharoit va o'xshash taqdiralar qalamga olinsa-da, ikki adibning inson konsepsiyasini yaratishdagi ham uyg'un, ham o'zaro paradoksal talqinga ega ekani tadqiqotimiz uchun ahamiyatli sanaladi.

“Jimjitlik” tom ma'noda sobiq Ittifoqning ijtimoiy-siyosiy muhitida tug'ilib o'sgan, hayotiy, badiiy-estetik qarashlari kommunistik mafkura ta'sirida shakllangan eski avlod ijodkoriga mansub roman. Said Ahmad eski avlod vakili bo'lsa-da, “Jimjitlik”da ilgari o'zining boshqa asarlari bilan qo'llab-quvvatlagan tuzumni jiddiy tanqid ostiga oladi. Biroq roman oxirlab, muallif xulosalarini o'rta tashlay boshlaganda, bosh qahramon tilidan jamiyat ahli Marks va Lenin g'oyalarining asl mohiyatiga qaytishi zarurligini, qachondir ular orzu qilgan kommunizm bunyod bo'lishiga ishonishini aytadi. Albatta, roman so'ngidagi bu xulosalarga “senzura talabi” sifatida qarash ham mumkin. Lekin romanni sinchiklab o'qigan o'quvchi muallifning hukm va xulosalarida o'zaro ziddiyatli o'rinlar juda ko'p ekaniga guvoh bo'ladi. Bu hol adibning mavjud voqelikka nisbatan aniq pozitsiyasi, xulosasi yo'qligidan, aniqrog'i, real voqelikning o'zi paradoksal ekanidan dalolat beradi.

Said Ahmaddan farqli o'laroq, Murod Muhammad Do'st "Lolazor"da o'z xulosalarini konkretlashtiradi. Barcha muammolarning sababiyati mavjud siyosiy tafakkurga bog'lanishini asoslaydi. Ayni vaqtda, u ham muammo uchun aniq yechim taklif qila olmaydi. Lekin, har holda, paradoksal jamiyatga nisbatan ziyoli odam qanday pozitsiyada turishi kerak ekanini anglab yetadi. Bu "yolg'onda yashamaslik"¹ pozitsiyasi edi. Ya'ni yolg'onga asoslangan tuzum va manipulyativ hukmron elita ta'siridan ma'nan xalos bo'lish, mavjud siyosiy-ijtimoiy jarayonlarning yolg'on ekanini anglash, shu yolg'onga hissa qo'shmaslik ziyoli insonning burchi. Bu burch mohiyatida nafaqat obyektiv voqelikni haqqoniy baholash, balki o'zlikni anglash masalasi ham turadi. Boshqacha aytganda, yozuvchi yolg'on jamiyatda yashayotganini anglagan shaxsni o'ziligini anglagan shaxsga tenglashtiradi. Shu sababli u "Lolazor" romanini to'laligicha kinoya asosiga quradi. Adib uchun kinoya shunchaki badiiy vosita emas, balki inson konsepsiyasi – o'zligini anglagan shaxsning muhim asosi. Binobarin, shaxsning yolg'onlardan yuqorida ekaniga yagona dalil uning shu voqelikka nisbatan kinoyaviy pozitsiyada turishidir. Ya'ni faqat aldanmagan odamgina kinoya qila oladi.

"Lolazor"da jamiyatdagi muammolarning tub sabablarini Stalin davrida shakllanib, turli ko'rinishlarda yashab kelayotgan total siyosiy tafakkur bilan bog'lashga, hukmron elita ruhiyatidagi evrilishlar tadrijini ko'rsatishga urinish kuchli. Biroq ayni shu harakat milliy romanchiligimizda ibtidoiy shaklda bo'lsa-da "Jimjitlik"dan boshlanganini qayd etmoq zarur.

Adabiyotshunoslar "Jimjitlik" romanidagi markaziy qahramonlardan biri Shavkat Rahimovning hayotiy prototipi sifatida O'zbekiston SSR rahbari (1959–1983) bo'lgan Sharof Rashidovni ko'rsatadilar². S.Ahmad ham yurtning eng katta rahbarlari, ministrlar va yirik tashkilot raislarining ruhiyatini taftish etishga, ularning kechinmalarini tasvirlashga harakat qiladi. Biroq adib bu yo'lda hayot haqiqatidan biroz chekinadi, biryozlamalikka yo'l qo'yadi. Aytmoqchimizki, "Jimjitlik" romanining "Lolazor"dan farqi inson konsepsiyasini yaratishdagi maqsadda emas, balki avvalo mahorat bobida ko'zga tashlanadi. Shunday ekan, "Lolazor"ni hukmron elita ruhiyatini ochib bergan dastlabki roman sifatida talqin qilish to'g'ri bo'lmaydi. Bu boradagi burilish nuqtasi "Jimjitlik"dan boshlangan.

"Lolazor" romanidagi ijtimoiy dardni his qilishimizda rus yozuvchisi Aleksandr Soljenitsinning "Yolg'onda yashamaslik" nomli essesi muhim ahamiyatga ega. Soljenitsin sobiq Ittifoqning ibtidoiy siyosati zo'ravonlikka, keyingi bosqichlarda esa zo'ravonlik va yolg'on tandemiga asoslanganini aytmoqda. E'tiborlisi, bu yolg'on siyosat shaxsdan nafaqat bo'ysunishni, balki jarayonda “yolgʻonchi ishtirokchi” boʻlishni talab qiladi. Bizningcha, ayni shu omil Murod Muhammad Doʻstning inson konsepsiyasini tushunishda muhim ochqich vazifasini oʻtaydi.

M.Muhammad Doʻstning inson konsepsiyasiga ham shaxsning oʻz-oʻzini anglash va oʻzini namoyon etish ehtiyoji nuqtai nazaridan qarash toʻgʻri boʻladi. Lekin total siyosat va yolgʻonlar asosiga qurilgan jamiyatda oʻzlikni anglash nimani bildiradi? Roman gʻoyasiga koʻra bu tuzumning yolgʻon ekanini anglash bilan yuzaga chiqadi.

“Lolazor” romanining markazida uch qahramon turadi. Bu uchovlonning roman mazmunida tutgan oʻrni va vazifasi, yozuvchining inson konsepsiyasidagi ahamiyatini tushunishda Saidqul Mardonning quyidagi tasnifi muhim rol oʻynaydi: “Oshno – Iskandari Zulqarnayn, Yaxshiboyev Iskandarning shoxini koʻrib ichiga singdirolmagan sartarosh, men esam – quduq, chuqur va zimiston quduq”¹. Oshno, Nazar Yaxshiboyev va Saidqul Mardonlarning taqdiri, aʼmoli, feʼli-huyidan kelib chiqsak, ularning birortasi ham bir vaqtda oʻzligini anglagan va oʻzligini namoyon etgan shaxslar emas.

Romanda hech bir qahramon Nazar Yaxshiboyevga oʻzlikni anglash darajasida teng kela olmaydi. U yolgʻon siyosatning koʻlamini hammadan koʻra kengroq his qiladi, eng katta rahbardan tortib, oddiy choʻpon taqdirigacha kirib boradi. Aslida, Adibni qiynagan muammo ham shu – davr ziyolisi, agar u juda ildamlab ketsa, fojiani faqat koʻra oladi, xolos, undan ortiq emas.

Demak, Nazar Yaxshiboyevning qismati maʼlum. Uni bir soʻz bilan “ilojsizlik” deb atash mumkin. U hayoti oxirlab, oʻtgan umrini sarhisob qilarkan, faqat roʻyoni koʻradi. Na turmushda, na ijodda va na mansabda yuk bosadigan biror xayrli ish qilganini bilmaydi.

“Lolazor” milliy adabiyotimizda hokimiyatni anglashni, hukmron elitaga xos murakkab ruhiy tovlanishlarni koʻrsatishni maqsad qilgan nodir asar. Shu maʼnoda oʻlmas asar, oʻlmaski, “har kishining oʻz zamoni va oʻz Oshnosi bor”². Mutafakkir adib SSSR parchalangani bilan unga xos siyosiy tafakkur yangi hokimiyat vorislariga oʻtishini, asr boshlarida kommunizm otalari yaratib ketgan total, yolgʻon siyosat, xuddi, estafeta tayoqchasidek, “avtokratiya”, “demokratiya” kabi otlar bilan hali uzoq yillar yashashini sezganmi, eldosh-u tildosh ukalarim “oʻzga avlod odamlarining ahvolini tushunsa, oʻshalarning hayotini oʻz umriga juda qisqa bir muddat payvand qilsa, soʻng oʻylasa, koʻp va xoʻp oʻylasa! Qiynalib, azoblanib, kulib, yigʻlab oʻylasa-da, minbaʼd oʻzlari oʻsha yoʻriqqa tushmasa!”³ deb niyat qiladi.

Qayd etish lozimki, Murod Muhammad Doʻst oʻzining inson konsepsiyasini davr va oʻzlikni anglashdek ulkan ehtiyoj pishib yetilganda, favqulodda katta mahorat bilan yaratdi. Keyingi davrlarda “Lolazor” kabi siyosiy tuzum va hukmron elitani anglashga qaratilgan romanlar yozilmadi. Sababi ehtiyoj boʻlmadi. Zotan, biz roman badiiy voqeligida tasvirlangan siyosiy madaniyat, ijtimoiy-siyosiy munosabatlardan hali u qadar olislab ketganimizcha yo‘q.

Bobning “Mustaqillik davri romanchiligi: yangi inson” nomli faslida mustaqillik davri romanchiligiga xos inson badiiy konsepsiyasi yaxlit, tadrijiy tadqiq etilgan.

Istiqlolning dastlabki yillarida o‘zbek romanchiligi ijodiy tajribalar maydoniga aylandi. Buning bosh sababi necha o‘n yillar davomida badiiy-g‘oyaviy tushov bo‘lgan mafkuradan adabiyotning ozod etilishi edi. Erkin adabiyot, erkin odam haqida aniq badiiy konsepsiyaga ega bo‘lmagan ijodkorlar tabiiy ravishda tajribalarga qo‘l uradi. Turli qarashlar bilan insonning turfa xil badiiy konsepsiyalarini taqdim etadi.

Kimdir mavjudlikni falsafiy aspektda o‘rganib, modernizm, postmodernizm kabi yo‘nalishlar talqinidagi inson konsepsiyasini ilgari sursa, yana kim diniy-tasavvufiy ta’limotlarga murojaat etadi. Kimdir insonni ijtimoiy-iqtisodiy jihatdan talqin qilsa, boshqasi milliy-tarixiy omillarga tayanadi. Mazkur kuzatishlarni tizimlashtirib, inson konsepsiyasini yaratishga doir quyidagi tendensiyalarni alohida qayd etish mumkin:

1. Sho‘rolar zamonini anglash orqali mustaqillikni va erkin shaxsni anglash.
2. Tarix va tarixiy shaxslarni bilish orqali o‘zlikni anglash.
3. O‘tish davridagi voqealarni baholash orqali bozor iqtisodiyoti va ekonomik odamni anglash.
4. Insonni diniy-tasavvufiy kontekstda o‘rganish orqali komil insonni anglash.
5. XIX asr G‘arb faylasuflarining ta’limotini o‘zlashtirish orqali absurd odamni anglash.
6. Sharq va G‘arb tafakkurini sintez qilish orqali insonni global miqyosda anglash.

Kuzatuv va tahlillardan ma’lum bo‘ldiki, mustaqillik davri o‘zbek romanlari markazida erkin inson konsepsiyasi turadi. Ijodkorni ko‘proq insonning erki, qadr-qiymati va sha’ni qiziqtiradiki, bu ayni postkolonial, posttotalitar jamiyat tafakkuriga xos tabiiy jarayondir. Ya’ni uzoq yillar davomida erki bo‘g‘ilgan odam ozod etilgach, albatta, shu erkinlikni anglashga urinadi.

Erkini anglash juda ham chuqur ruhiy-ijtimoiy muammo bo‘lib, ijodkor jamiyatning ijtimoiy ongida “qullik”, “mutelik” alomatlari hali-hamon saqlanib qolganini his qilgani uchun ham mazkur mavzuga qayta-qayta murojaat qiladi. Shuning uchun ham Sho‘rolar davri, sobiq mustabid tuzum voqealarini badiiy idrok etish mustaqillik davri romanlarining bosh mavzusiga aylangan.

Romannavislar istiqlool yillarida turib o‘tmish manzaralariga qaytish, voqeahodisalarni qayta baholash va ko‘p hollarda, o‘tmishni o‘zlari yashayotgan davrga qiyoslashga ehtiyoj sezganlar. Mazkur tendensiya qariyb 25-yil, to 70–80-yillarda shakllangan adabiy avlodning ijodiy faolligi tabiiy ravishda so‘na boshlagunga qadar davom etdi. Bunday asarlar sirasidan “Otamdan qolgan dalalar”, “Bu dunyoda o‘lib bo‘lmaydi”, “Tushda kechgan umrlar”, “Adolat manzili”, “Kapalaklar o‘yini”, “Jaziramadagi odamlar”, “Shovqin”, “Ro‘yo yohud G‘ulistonga safar”, “Go‘ro‘g‘li” va yana o‘nlab romanlarni sanash mumkin.

“O‘tmishni xotirlash” tendensiyasining eng so‘ngi yorqin namunalari sifatida Erkin A‘zamning “Shovqin” (2011), Ahmad A‘zamning “Ro‘yo” (2011), Nazar Eshonqulning “Go‘ro‘g‘li” (2012) romanlarini ko‘rsatish mumkin.

Davr romannavislari o‘zlarining inson konsepsiyasini o‘tmish manzarali fonida yaratishiga quyidagi omillar sabab bo‘lgan bo‘lishi mumkin:

Obyektiv sabablar:

a) Senzura.

Sho‘rolar tuzumining total nazorati ostida ijodkor o‘z davrining muammolarini ayta olmagan. Istiqloldan so‘ng shu muammolarni aytish imkoni tug‘ilgan.

b) Aksilsenzura.

Mustaqillik davrida ijodkor senzura bosimi sabab o‘z davridagi muammolarni ayta olmagan va buni Sho‘rolar davri manzaralari vositasida ifodalashga uringan.

v) Badiiy ijod xususiyati.

Muayyan davr va voqelik qachonki o‘tmishga aylansagina chinakam estetik obyektga aylanishi mumkin. Ya‘ni ijod tabiatiga ko‘ra, odatda san‘atkor o‘zi bosib o‘tgan yo‘lni sarhisob qiladi, badiiy idrok etadi.

d) Yangi mafkura talabi.

Milliy istiqlol mafkurasining muhim vazifalardan biri qullik va mutelik kayfiyatini jamiyat ongidan tozalash bo‘lgan. Shu ma’noda, yozuvchining Sho‘rolar davrini badiiy idrok etishga kirishishini ijtimoiy buyurtma sifatida ham baholash mumkin.

Subyektiv sabablar:

a) Mustaqillikni anglash ehtiyoji.

Tarixni xolis baholashni istasak, mustaqillik nashidasi sobiq Ittifoq davlatlariga kutilmaganda kelib qolganini e‘tibordan qochirmasligimiz kerak. Ana shunday chigal vaziyatda ijodkorlar “o‘z qo‘llaridagi” mustaqillikni, ozod jamiyat va erkin odamni anglashga ehtiyoj sezadi. Buni anglash esa ozod jamiyatni o‘tmishning qora kunlari bilan chog‘ishtirishda amalga oshiriladi.

b) Ijodkorning ulg‘ayishi.

Ulg‘aygan odam tabiiy ravishda xotiraga moyil bo‘lib qoladi va o‘tmishni sarhisob qilishga ehtiyoj sezadi.

v) O‘tmishni qumsash. Istiqlolning dastlabki yillari davlatimiz iqtisodiy jihatdan juda og‘ir ahvolga kelib qolgani, jamiyatning turli jabhalarida sodir bo‘lgan o‘zgarishlar ziyolilarni bir muddat depressiya tushirgani sir emas. Ana shunday kezlarda jamiyatda intuitiv ravishda o‘tmishni qumsash, ijodkor ruhiyatida kognitiv dissonans, paradoksal kayfiyat vujudga kelgani rost. Erkin inson konsepsiyasini yaratarkan, ijodkor shu yo‘l bilan o‘zi va jamiyat uchun taskin qidiradi.

d) “Shaxsiy uyat” hissi.

Istiqlol yillarida turib Sho‘rolar davrini badiiy idrok etish ehtiyojining subyektiv omillaridan yana biri “shaxsiy uyat” hissini yengish, ijodkorning ruhiy-ma'naviy jihatdan yangi zamon bilan tezroq qovushib ketish istagidan bo'lishi mumkin.

Yoshini yashab qo'ygan odam uchun aldanganini, qilgan ko'p ishlari esa sarob ekani tan olish juda og'ir. Ziyolilardagi ayni shu kechinmani O.Sharafiddinov "E'tiqodimni nega o'zgartirdim" nomli maqolasida ro'y-rost ochib berilgan.

Shu tariqa, umrining asosiy qismini yolg'on mafkuraga bag'ishlaganini anglab yetgan mo'ysafid(lar)ning iztiroblari aks etgan qator romanlar yozildiki, ular jumlasidan, O'tkir Xoshimov "Tushda kechgan umrlar" (1992), Odil Yoqubovning "Adolat manzili" (1994), Tog'ay Murodning "Bu dunyoda o'lib bo'lmaydi" romanlari e'tiborga molik.

Sanalganlardan tashqari, mustaqillik davri romanlariga xos inson konsepsiyasida bir qator umumlashtiruvchi tendensiyalar ham kuzatildi. Jumladan, yozuvchilar mute inson konsepsiyasi orqali odamning muayyan davr va shart-sharoitda shaxslik alomatlarini yo'q qilishga urinish qanday ayanchli oqibatlariga olib kelishi mumkinligi ochib berganlar. Xususan, Tog'ay Murodning "Otamdan qolgan dalalar" nomli romanida mute dehqonning fojiaiy umrini ko'rsatish barobarida, o'zini va millatining qismatini anglashga urinish mavjud.

Yana biri duragay shaxs konsepsiyasidir. Ya'ni yozuvchi sho'rolar davrida millatning millatlik, o'zlik sifatleri yemirilib, "ruslashib" qolayozganiga e'tibor qaratadi. Mazkur inson konsepsiya g'oyasi ayniqsa E.A'zamning "Shovqin" romanida yaqqol ko'zga tashlanadi.

Tarixiy romanlar yozish tendensiyasi istiqlol yillari o'zbek adabiyotida kuzatilgan yana bir yirik hodisadir. Yozuvchilar xalqimizning qadim va yaqin tarixini jonlantirish, o'tmishda yashab o'tgan ulug' ajdodlarimiz siymosini yaratish orqali istibdod davrlari jamiyatda yo'qola yozgan milliy o'zlikni shakllantirishga uringanlar.

Ma'lumki, Sho'rolar davrida ham "Navoiy", "Ulug'bek xazinasi", "Yulduzli tunlar" va boshqa qator tarixiy romanlar yozildi. Biroq mazkur romanlarda tarixiy shaxs konsepsiyasi sotsialistik realizm metodi asosida shakllangani bilan xarakterli. Ularda tarixiy qahramonlar kommunizm g'oyalariga mos ravishda, marksistik sinfiylik nuqtai nazaridan talqin qilingan. Asarlarda matonatli xalq va zulmkor feodal elita o'zaro qarama-qarshi qo'yiladi, barcha muammolarga feodalizm va din aybdor degan g'oya ustuvorlik qiladi. Shu tariqa ajdodlarimizning sun'iy, tarixiy haqiqatlarga nomutanosib badiiy qiyofalari yaratildi. Istiqlol davriga kelib ijodkor tarixiy haqiqatni tiklashga urinadi.

Dindor odam konsepsiyasi mustaqillik yillarida yaratilgan juda ko'plab asarlarda uchraydi. Romannavislar har doim ham mazkur masalani bosh mavzusiga aylantirmasa-da, ikkinchi darajali personajlar misolida din va dindorlik haqidagi qarashlarini aytishga uringanlar. Bunday asarlar qatoriga "Dinozavr", "Ming bir qiyofa", "Tepalikdagi xaroba", "Muvozanat", "Isyon va itoat", "Jaziramadagi odamlar", "Boqiy darbadar", "Ozod", "Alisher Navoiy", "Yo'l" va yana boshqa ko'plab romanlarni qo'shish mumkin.

Bulardan tashqari o'zbek modern romanlarida absurd inson, postmodern romanlarda esa global inson konsepsiyalari ilgani surildi.

Dissertatsiyaning uchinchi bobi “Demokratik jamiyatda inson talqini” deb nomlangan bo‘lib, ikki fasldan iborat. Bobning “O‘tish davri” romanlarida jamiyat va shaxs ziddiyati: ekonomik inson” nomli ilk faslida o‘tish davri ijtimoiy shart-sharoiti ta’sirida shakllangan adabiy tafakkur va inson konsepsiyasi tadqiq etilgan.

Mustaqillikdan so‘ng o‘zbek jamiyati sotsializmning butunlay ziddi bo‘lgan kapitalizm qonuniyatlari asosida hayot kechirishi, shunga mos ravishda orzu-istaklari, ideal va maqsadlarini qaytadan belgilab olishi zarur edi. Ayni shu murakkab jarayon O‘zbekistonning yangi tarixida o‘tish davri nomi bilan muhrlanib qoldi.

O‘tish davri ijodkorlar chekiga yangi davrni anglash, kapitalistik jamiyatda shaxs maqomi, uning axloqi, ideal va maqsadlarini belgilash, bir so‘z bilan aytganda, yangi inson konsepsiyasini yaratish vazifasini yuklar edi.

Mustaqillikning dastlabki o‘n yilligida yozilgan barcha romanlarda ham jamiyatda bir tuzumdan ikkinchi bir tuzumga o‘tish vaqtidagi ijtimoiy-ruhiy, madaniy evrilishlar keng miqyosda tasvirlanmagan. Aniqrog‘i, bu barcha romannavislarning ham badiiy-ijodiy maqsadiga aylanmagan. Shunday ekan, o‘tish davri romanlari deganda zamon ijtimoiy kayfiyatini ifodalagan, davr va shaxs ziddiyatlari tasvirini o‘z badiiy maqsadiga aylantirgan asarlarnigina tushunishimiz maqsadga muvofiq.

Yuqoridagi talablarga Shukur Xolmirzayevning “Dinozavr”, Xurshid Do‘stmuhammadning “Bozor” hamda Ulug‘bek Hamdamning “Muvozanat” romanlarida juda mos keladi. Biz ularda o‘tish davri manzaralarini bor murakkabliklari ko‘rishimiz mumkin bo‘ladi.

Sanalgan asarlar o‘tish davrini romaniy kontekstda taftish etgani, bozor munosabatlariga qadam qo‘ygan jamiyatning ko‘p tarmoqli badiiy modelini yaratib, olam va odam munosabatlari haqida yaxlit badiiy konsepsiya taqdim etgani bilan qadrlidir. Ya’ni bu romanlarda o‘tish davrida jamiyat ahli ro‘baro‘ kelgan muammolar, ayniqsa, ziyolilarning iztiroblari, ruhiy-ma’naviy evrilishlari, buning sabab va oqibatlari qalamga olinganki, mazkur omillar romanlarning nafaqat muvaffaqiyatini, balki unikalligini ta’minlaydi.

Deyarli bir vaqtda (1996 – 1999-yillar oralig‘ida) yozilgan “Dinozavr”, “Muvozanat”, “Bozor” romanlarining mazkur tadqiqot uchun yana bir muhim jihati shundaki, ularning barida bozor munosabatlari qaror topgan jamiyat fuqarosi – ekonomik inson (Homo Economicus) konsepsiyasi yaratilgan.

*Ekonomik inson*¹ kategoriyasi kapitalizmning, umuman, iqtisodiyotning falsafiy asosi hisoblanadi. Ekonomik odam kategoriyasining nazariy asoslarini yaratgan Adam Smitga ko‘ra inson faqatgina o‘z manfaatini ko‘zlab harakatlanadi va bu jarayon har doim ham anglangan tarzda kechmaydi. “Ko‘rinmas qo‘l” insonni, hatto, u maqsad qilmagan ne‘matlar tomon yetaklaydi, bu yo‘lda u jamiyat manfaatlari uchun anglangan, maqsadli harakatlaridan-da ko‘proq foyda keltiradi”². Demak, biz ekonomik inson deganda o‘z nafsining quli, pul uchun hamma narsaga tayyor odamni tushunishimiz xato. Ekonomik odam ham o'z mohiyati bilan ijtimoiy odam. Faqat u insonning shaxsiy manfaatlarini ko'proq himoya qilib, ijtimoiy tenglikka manfaat orqali yetib borishni ko'zlaydigan nazariyadir. Shu jihatdan, ekonomik odam tushunchasi ijtimoiy odam (Homo sociologicus)ga qarama-qarshi qo'yiladi. Kapitalizmning poydevorini esa ayni shu haqiqat, insonga xos ehtiyojlar asosiga quradilar.

“Dinozavr”, “Muvozanat”, “Bozor” kabi romanlarning o'ziga xosligi shundaki, ularda asli ijtimoiy odam bo'lgan bosh qahramonning voqealar rivojida asta-sekin ekonomik odamga evrilishi kuzatiladi. Bu romanlarning butun ma'no-mazmuni, voqea-hodisalarning zanjir kabi tizilishi mana shu evrilishning tasviri, ifodasi uchun bo'ysundirilgandek, go'yo.

“Dinozavr” romani bosh qahramoni Mahkam halol, samimiy va judayam iste'dodli ijodkor. Dunyoni san'at qutqarishiga, ideal jamiyat o'zaro mehr-oqibat, adolat, tenglik va hamjihatlik ustiga qurilishiga ishonadigan kommunist. Biroq u ayni shu soddadilligi, to'g'riligi tufayli kapitalistik jamiyatga moslasha olmaydi. Zero unda egoizmdan asar ham yo'q. Muammo shundaki, u kapitalizmning “otalari” kabi egoizmni jamiyat muvozanatini ta'minlovchi omil sifatida emas, balki tanazzul tomon yetaklovchi illat sifatida biladi. Chunki u atrofidagi odamlarning o'z nafs deb tuban maxluqqa aylanib borayotganini ko'rib turadi.

Mahkam obrazida na eski va na yangi tuzum yuzasidan aniq xulosaga kelgan shaxs gavdalanadi. U asarda xolis kuzatuvchi, ikki davrning yutuq va kamchiliklarini to'g'ri baholay oluvchi, hali bir tuzumni ikkinchisidan ustun qo'yishga shoshmayotgan, mulohazakor qahramon sifatida taassurot qoldiradi. Ayni damda u arosatda qolgan shaxs ham edi. Ya'ni o'tish davrida aksar ziyolilar Mahkam kabi fikr-xulosalari hali to'la shakllanib ulgurmagan, arosatda yashayotgan shaxslar edi. Yozuvchi “arosatdagi shaxs” tasviri orqali o'tish davri ziyolilarining reallikka monand qiyofasini yaratish bilan birga, o'tmish va bugunni muqoyasa qilayotgan qahramon vositasida yangi davrni obyektiv baholashni maqsad qiladi.

Roman so'ngiga kelib esa Mahkam sekin-asta bozor munosabatlariga moslashib ulgurgan odamlarni o'rganishga, ularni tushunishga urina boshlaydi, har qalay, ko'nglida shu ishga nisbatan rag'bat sezadi.

O'tish davrining eng yorqin romanlaridan yana biri, so'zsiz, Ulug'bek Hamdamning “Muvozanat” romanidir. Unda katta bir davr, jamiyat hayoti yaxlit badiiy modelga jo etilgan. O'quvchi asar mutolaasiga kirisharkan, o'tish davri manzaralari: ijtimoiy, iqtisodiy, siyosiy vaziyat, turli tabaqa, soha vakillarining kechmishi, yosh-u qari, qishlog'-u shahar aholisining hayot tarzidan boxabar bo'ladi.

“Muvozanat” romani bosh qahramoni Yusuf – tarixchi olim. U butun umrini ilm olishga va uni yoyishga bag'ishlagan. Ilmini har qanday manfaatlaridan ustun qo'ygan va buni hayotiy dasturilamalga aylantirgan. Biroq uning hayotiy dasturi kapitalizmga u qadar mos kelmaydi. Endi u yangi tartibotga moslashish yo'llarini – ruh va moddiy munosabatining muvozanatini qidirishga mahkum.

² Смит А. Исследование о природе и причинах богатства народов. – Москва: Издательство социально-экономической литературы, 1962. – С. 332.

U.Hamdam o'zining olam va odam haqidagi badiiy konsepsiyasini to'rtta markaziy qahramon (Yusuf, Said, Miraziz, Amir) asosiga qurarkan, romanda ularni o'zaro qarama-qarshi qo'yadi. Ayni vaqtda, ularning bari hayotiy-ruhiy muvozanatni yo'qotgani bilan umumiylikni kasb etadi. Asar esa mana shu buzilgan muvozanatni izlash yo'llarini, bu yo'lda qahramonlar ruhiyatida kechgan evrilishlar va xulosalarni ko'rsatishni maqsad qiladi.

Yusuf romanning bosh qahramoni o'laroq moddiy, ma'naviy, ijtimoiy muvozanatsizlikning barcha alomatlarini o'zida mujassam etadi. Agar Saidda hokimiyat va ruhiyat, Mirazizda moddiyat va ma'naviyat, Amirida e'tiqod va amal o'rtasidagi muvozanatsizlikka urg'u berilgan bo'lsa, Yusuf shularning barini umumlashtirib, yozuvchining inson konsepsiyasini yaratishdagi bosh laboratoriyaga aylanadi. Boshqacha aytganda, Ulug'bek Hamdam roman markazidagi to'rt qahramonga insoniyatga xos to'rt muhim omil: ma'rifat, pul, hokimiyat va dinni taqsimlab berarkan, aslida, ularning bari bir shaxsda, muvozanatli yo'sinda mujassam bo'lishini orzu qiladi.

“Bozor” romani qahramoni Fozilbek – fozil yigit. U dunyoning ramzi bo'lgan bozor – jamiyatdan adolat, halollik, mehr-oqibat kabi fazilatlar ko'tarilayotganidan tashvishda. O'zi va yaqinlarining bu xil yangi davrga ma'nan tayyor emasligini his qiladi. Jonini fido qilib bo'lsa-da “bozor”ni isloh qilishga urinadi. Qanday qilib to'laligicha bozor munosabatlari ustiga qurilayotgan jamiyatda inson bo'lib qolish yo'llarini qidiradi.

“Bozor” an'anaviy realistik uslubda emas, balki modernistik uslubda yozilgan bo'lib, to'laligicha ramziylik asosiga qurilgan. Yozuvchining ijtimoiy munosabatlarni qandaydir ilohiy qudrat tarozisiga qo'yib baholashga urinishi esa romanni mistikaga yaqinlashtiradi.

Adib insoniyatni bozor vositasida tushunishga va tushuntirishga harakat qilarkan, bundan muayyan g'oyaviy-badiiy maqsadni ko'zlaydi. U o'zining inson konsepsiyasi uchun “bozor modeli”ni poydevor qilib oladi. Bu poydevorga esa insoniyat xos manfaat – nafsning ramzi sifatida qaraydi.

Ko'rinadiki, “Dinozavr”, “Muvozanat”, “Bozor” romanlari badiiy-g'oyaviy jihatdan ham, ijtimoiy jihatdan ham mushtarak asarlardir. Ularni jamiyat va shaxs, ruh va modda munosabatlaridagi muvozanatni, ularni bog'lovchi oltin ko'prikn qidirayotgan qahramonlar obrazi birlashtirib turadi.

Bobning “Tarixiy shaxsning demokratik jamiyatdagi badiiy ifodasi” deb nomlangan faslida Alisher Navoiy obrazining ikki tuzum va davrdagi badiiy talqini inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasi nuqtai nazaridan tadqiq etilgan.

Adabiyotimiz tarixida Alisher Navoiyning to'laqonli badiiy siymosini yaratishga bo'lgan urinishlar u qadar ko'p emas. Oybekning “Navoiy” (roman, 1944), Uyg'un va Izzat Sultonning “Alisher Navoiy” (drama, 1945), Omon Muxtorning “Ishq ahli” (roman, 2007) va nihoyat Isajon Sultonning “Alisher Navoiy” (roman, 2021) kabi asarlarida ulug' shoir siymosi tarixiy-ijtimoiy voqealar markazida badiiy talqin etilgan.

Sanalgan asarlar ichida Navoiy shaxsiyatining nisbatan to'laqonli, konseptual badiiy qiyofasi Oybek va I.Sulton romanlarida ifodalangan. Bu ikki roman yozilgan davr oralig‘i esa qariyb sakson yilni tashkil etadi. O‘tgan yillar davomida ijtimoiy shart-sharoit ham, tuzum ham, adabiy-estetik qarashlar ham, hatto, tarixning o‘zi ham yangilandi. Shunday ekan, I.Sultonning Alisher Navoiy siymosini qaytadan badiiy talqin etishga bo‘lgan urinishiga shunchaki shaxsiy ijodiy ehtiyoj sifatida emas, balki ijtimoiy-estetik hayotimizda yetilib kelgan umumestetik ehtiyojning mevasi sifatida qarash o‘rinli bo‘ladi.

Tarixiy romanda muallif tarixiy shaxs konsepsiyasini (asosan) bosh qahramon timsolida ilgari suradi. Ijodkor olamni bilish yo‘lida o‘z badiiy talqinidagi tarixiy shaxs ruhiyatini taftish qiladi, uning murakkab taqdiriga nazar soladi. Shu tarixiy shaxs vositasida zamon va makonni o‘rganadi. Ijtimoiy, iqtisodiy, siyosiy, madaniy, falsafiy qarashlarini ilgari suradi. Demak, tarixiy asarni baholashda o‘tmishning qay darajada haqqoniy jonlantirilgani emas, balki mavjud voqelik, tarixiy shaxs qay tarzda badiiy tafakkur qilingani hisobga olinadi. Ya’ni tarixiy asarda muallifning inson konsepsiyasi shu asarning ham badiiy-g‘oyaviy, ham kompozitsion butunligini belgilovchi eng muhim omilga aylanadi. Inson konsepsiyasiga doir mazkur xususiyat “Navoiy” va “Alisher Navoiy” romanlarining o‘zaro qiyosida yaqqol ko‘rinadi. Ikki adibning ulug‘ mutafakkir obrazi vositasida yaratgan tarixiy asari – tarixiy voqelik inson konsepsiyasi omili sabab o‘zaro sezilarli farqlanadi. Sababi tarixiy shaxs bir bo‘lgani bilan, adiblarning inson konsepsiyasi farqli edi.

Oybekning “Navoiy” romani haqida so‘z borganda, muallif yashagan davr, shart-sharoit, senzura va mafkura bosimini nazardan qochirmaslik lozim. Zero, Oybek dahosi istagan taqdirida ham Navoiyni o‘z idealidagi kabi tasvirlay olmasdi.

Sotsializm va uning g‘oyalari ta’sirida Oybek ko‘proq Navoiyning xalqparvarlik, kambag‘alparvarlik kabi jihatlariga e’tibor qaratib, tarixiy shaxsning ijtimoiylashganiga urg‘u beradi. Bu borada O.Sharafiddinov “Oybek Navoiy xarakterini yaratar ekan, birinchi navbatda, uning buyuk gumanist ekaniga, nafaqat san’atkor, balki mutafakkir sifatidagi qarashlarini ifodalashga alohida ahamiyat beradi”¹ deb yozadi.

Romanda Navoiy – gumanist, xalq vakili o‘laroq, o‘rta asrlar feodalizmiga qarama-qarshi qo‘yiladi. Oybekda Xusayn Boyqaro va Navoiy munosabatlari mafkura bosimi ostida tarixiy haqiqatlarga biroz zid tasvirlangan. “Navoiy” romanida Bayqaro maishatparst, yon-atrofidagi zodagonlarning ta’siriga tushib qolgan, xalq g‘amini yemaydigan adolatsiz hukmdor sifatida tasvirlanadi. Lekin tarixdan ma’lumki, Huroson sulton Xusayn davrida ancha rivojlanib, o‘lkada kuchli davlatchilik qaror topgan.

Zamonlar o‘tishi, sotsializm o‘rnida kapitalizmning qaror topishi, ijtimoiy shart-sharoitning o‘zgarishi, olam va odam munosabatlarining yangi talqinlari paydo bo‘lishi natijasida tarixiy shaxslarning badiiy qiyofasini qaytadan yaratish ehtiyoji ham tabiiy ravishda tug‘iladi. Ayniqsa, tarix yuzasidan olib borilgan yangi tadqiqotlar, aniqlangan so‘ngi tarixiy ma’lumotlar o‘z-o‘zidan tarixiy shaxslar talqinida yangicha munosabatni talab qila boshlaydi. I.Sulton ayni shu ehtiyojni his qilgan holda Navoiy obrazini boshqa rakurslardan turib yaratishga urinadi.

I.Sultonning tarixiy shaxs konsepsiyasida ham xuddi Oybek kabi Alisher Navoiyning insonparvarlik, elparvarlik, ma'rifatparvarlik kabi fazilatlariga alohida e'tibor qaratiladi. Biroq mazkur jihatlar I.Sultonda Navoiy siymosini yaratishdagi bosh omil emas. Adib ko'proq mutafakkir shoirning ijodiy-ruhiy olamini taftish etishga harakat qilgan. I.Sultonni alohida bir individ sifatida Navoiyning aslida kim bo'lgani, uning kechinmalari, ma'naviy dunyosi, o'y-xayollari, armoni, shaxs sifatidagi qadriyatlari, iymoni, axloqi ko'proq qiziqtirgan.

I.Sulton Navoiy hayoti va ijodini diniy-e'tiqodiy nuqtai nazardan talqin qilishga, ulug' mutafakkirning islom bilan yo'g'rilgan axloqi, aqidasi, tariqatdagi yo'li va maqomi, umuman, avliyolik sifatlarini ko'rsatib berishga harakat qiladi.

I.Sulton o'z asarida Navoiyning butun hayotini qamrab oladi. Albatta, buning o'ziga yarasha jiddiy sabablari bor. Birinchidan, Navoiy yoshlik davrlaridayoq shoir sifatida Movarounnahr va Hurosonda mashhur bo'lib ulgurgan edi. Demak, Navoiyning tarixiy shaxs sifatidagi yaxlit qiyofasini yaratishda uning bolalik va o'spirinlik chog'idagi hayotini tasvirlash, shoir sifatida kamol topishiga ta'sir etgan asosiy omillarni shu davrdan izlash ehtiyoji bor. Qolaversa, hozirgi dunyo xaritasi nuqtai nazaridan qaralganda, Navoiyning ayni o'smirlik davri O'zbekiston bilan chambarchas bog'liq. Bu davrda Navoiy Samarqandda yashab ijod qiladi va tahsil oladi.

I.Sulton o'z romanida Navoiyni feodallarning dushmani sifatida tasvirlashga urinmaydi. Umuman, sulton, saroy ayonlari, bek va amirlarning obrazini yaratishda bir yoqlamalikdan qochadi. Hatto tarixan Navoiyga dushman sanalgan, saroyda turli fitnalar keltirib chiqargan Nizomulmulk, Madjiddin, Muzaffar Barlos, Xadicha Begim kabi amaldorlarning ham davlat ishlaridagi tadbirkorligi, oliy nasablarga xos mulohazakorligi ko'rsatib berilgan.

I.Sulton Husayn Bayqaroni adolatli, tanti, kengfe'l va mulohazakor hukmdor sifatida tasvirlashga urinadi. Oybekning romanida Navoiy sultonni davlatning muhim ishlari qolib, xalq ichida tafriqa chiqaruvchi farmonlar chiqarganlikda ayblasa, I.Sultonda Boyqaro ko'proq xalq g'ami va saltanat ishlari bilan band hukmdor sifatida gavdalantiriladi.

Yuqorida qayt etganimizdek, davr o'tishi, tuzum, ijtimoiy shart-sharoit o'zgarishi bilan tarixiy voqelikka, tarixiy shaxslarga boshqa rakurslardan qarashga, badiiy talqin qilishga bo'lgan ehtiyoj tabiiy ravishda yuzaga kelaveradi. I.Sulton tarixiy shaxs konsepsiyasini yaratishda bugungi kunning ijtimoiy, iqtisodiy, siyosiy, madaniy shart-sharoitidan kelib chiqadi. Shu tariqa, Alisher Navoiyning adabiyotimizda mavjud bo'lgan sakson yil oldingi badiiy qiyofasidan jiddiy farq qiluvchi yangi siymosi yaratiladi.

Alohida qayd etish lozimki, Oybekning "Navoiy" romani mafkura bosimi ostida yozilgan bo'lsa-da, badiiyati, kompozitsion butunligi, epik ko'lami jihatidan shu mavzudagi boshqa asarlardan ancha yuksakda turadi.

Dissertatsiyaning to'rtinchi bobi "Sharq va G'arb estetik tafakkuri sintezi va inson konsepsiyasi" deb nomlangan bo'lib, ikki fasldan iborat. Bobning “Modernistik romanlarda inson konsepsiyasi” nomli ilk faslida o‘zbek modern romanchiligiga xos inson konsepsiyasi tadqiq etilgan.

Modernizmga kelib insonga bo‘lgan munosabat o‘zgardi, odamning mavjudlikdagi maqomi qaytadan baholandi. Shunday ekan, modernist ijodkorlar haqli ravishda adabiyotda yangi inson konsepsiyasini ham ilgari sura boshladilar. Rus adabiyotshunosi Yu. Borev modernizmdagi inson konsepsiyasiga qisqacha qilib “inson – umuman olganda – yolg‘iz; bu adovatli (Kafka) va tuturiqsiz (Kamyu) dunyoda ijtimoiy tuzilmalarsiz yashash mumkin emasligidan qayg‘uradi”¹ deya ta’rif beradi.

Modernistlarning inson konsepsiyasini kengroq tushunish uchun XIX asrning ikkinchi yarmida Yevropa xalqlari dunyoqarashiga jiddiy ta’sir o‘tkazib, fikriy inqiloblarni boshlab bergan faylasuf Fridrix Nisshe ta’limoti bilan tanishib chiqish lozim. Nisshening inson konsepsiyasi bir so‘z bilan aytganda erkinlik asosiga quriladi. Faqat faylasuf erkinlik so‘ziga juda keng ma’nolarni yuklaydi. Nisshe nazarda tutgan ma’no nafaqat jism va ruh erkinligi, balki iroda erkinligini ham qamrab oladi. Ya’ni u insonning dindan, jumladan, axloqdan erkinligini ham nazarda tutadi. Shu ma’noda Nisshe uchun erkinlikning muayyan chegarasi mavjud emas.

O‘zbek modern adabiyotini tadqiq etarkanmiz, faqat G‘arb modernizmi, xususan, Nisshe va Freyd g‘oyalariga suyanib qolmadik. Milliy adabiyotimizdagi yangicha hodisalarga avvalo Sharqning boy madaniy merosi va azaliy qadriyatlaridan ulgi olgan san’at namunalari sifatida qarashga intildik. Shu bilan birga, g‘arbliklarga xos hayot falsafasi va san’at yo‘nalishining ta’sirini ham to‘laligicha inkor etib yubormadik.

Mazkur faslda o‘zbek modern romanlarida inson konsepsiyasini tadqiq etish uchun Omon Muxtorning “Ming bir qiyofa”, Nazar Eshonqulning “Go‘ro‘g‘li yohud Hayot suvi”, Ahmad A‘zamning “Ro‘yo yohud G‘ulistonga safar” romanlarini tanlab oldik. Sababi ular yadrosida erk g‘oyasi turuvchi inson konsepsiyasi ifodasida umumiylik kasb etadi. Mazkur uch roman mualliflari sobiq sho‘rolar davrida haququqi bo‘g‘ilgan insonning ruhiy-ma’naviy olamini chuqur taftish etishga, tuzum bilan ziddiyatga kirishgan shaxsning murakkab munosabatlarini tasvirlashga, mustabid siyosat inson ruhi va ongida qoldirgan jarohatlarning keyingi davr (tuzum)da bo‘y bergan asoratlarini ko‘rsatishga, bir vaqtning o‘zida o‘tmish va bugungi kun qahramonini bir shaxs siymosida yaratishga urinadilar. Boshqacha aytganda, modernizmning uslubiy imkoniyatlari muallifga zamon va makon chegaralarini buzib, ijtimoiy hayotning shunday bir kinoyaviy modelini yaratish imkonini beradiki, o‘quvchi badiiy voqelikda ham o‘tmishni, ham “bugun”ni ko‘ra boshlaydi. Aytish joizki, bu romanlarda modernistik uslub nafaqat shaxs va jamiyatning serqirra, murakkab munosabatlarining badiiy talqinida, balki aytilayotgan g‘oya va fikrning o‘ziga xos “qalqon”i o‘rnida ham samarali qo‘llanilgan.

Omon Muxtor mustaqillikning dastlabki yillarida birinchilardan bo'lib ijodiy eksperimentlarga qo'l urgan, milliy roman tafakkurini modernistik uslub bilan boyitgan peshqadam ijodkorlardan sanaladi. Uning "Ming bir qiyofa" romani sobiq sho'rolar davrida shaxs erkinligi bo'g'ilishi va buning ruhiy-ma'naviy oqibatlari haqidagi asar sifatida baholanadi.

Omon Muxtorning "Ming bir qiyofa" romani uch qism: "To'rt manzara", "O'lsidagi odam", "Afandining bolaligi" kabi nisbiy mustaqillika ega hikoyatlardan tashkil topgan. Yozuvchi inson konsepsiyasi markazida shaxsning ruhiy-ma'naviy, ijtimoiy erkinligi muammosi turadi. Zotan erkinlikning har qanday shakli bo'g'ilgan jamiyatda kishi mehnati va qobiliyatiga yarasha qadr topmaydi (Abdulla Hakim, Burhon Sharif), o'zligini yo'qotadi (Gulxumor), yolg'onlar qobig'ida yashaydi (Nasriddin Afandi) zulmkorlik, adolatsizlik, tilyog'lamalik urchiydi (Rahim II, G'ulom sartarosh). Eng achinarlisi, bunday jamiyatda inson o'z qiyofasi bilan emas, balki ming bir qiyofaga kirib buqalamun singari hayot kechirishga mahkum.

Badiiy asarda shakllangan inson konsepsiyasi, aslida, muallif yashagan zamon mahsulidir. Shunday ekan, Omon Muxtor badiiy konsepsiyasini faqat o'tmish bilan bog'lab talqin qilish xato. Yozuvchi o'z zamondoshlarining qullik, mutelik, manqurtlik iskanjasidan hamon chiqa olmayotganidan, mustabid tuzum qoldirgan jarohatlar asorati hali-hamon "og'riq" berayotganidan qayg'uradi. O'tmish manzaralarini tasvirlash orqali aslida bugunning kishisiga xitob qiladi, ishora va belgilar beradi.

Nazar Eshonqul o'zining "Go'ro'g'li yohud hayot suvi" romanida inson konsepsiyasini yaratishda nafaqat absurd falsafasi, Nisshe va Freyd qarashlariga tayanadi, balki G'arb modernizmining P.Sartr, F.Kafka, A.Kamyu kabi yetuk namoyandalari izidan boradi, ulardan ijodiy ta'sirlanadi.

N.Eshonqul ham inson konsepsiyasini yaratishda O.Muxtor kabi markazga shaxs erkinligi, uning qadri va sha'nini qo'yadi. Qachonki, kishida bu alomatlar yo'q ekan, uning hayvondan farqi yo'q, u go'yo lahad ichida yotgan murda kabidir. Aslida, insonni hayvonga aylantirish uchun uni jismonan nobud qilish yoki lahadga tashlash ham shart emas. Shunchaki, uning fikri bo'g'ilsa bas. Romanda inson qiyofasini belgilovchi ayni shu – fikr omilining bo'g'ilganini ko'ramiz. E'tiborlisi, adib muayyan toifalarnigina emas, balki butun bir jamiyatni fikrsiz "murda"ga mengzaydi. Ular biqiq "lahad"da yashayotganini anglamaydi, biror kimsa yo kuch yo'qki ularni bu zulmatdan olib chiqa olsa, shunchaki, hech vaqo yo'q – yo'qlik... Romanda ilgari surilgan ayni shu g'oyaviy-falsafiy qarashlar uni absurd falsafasiga daxldor qiladi.

N.Eshonqulning Jan Pol Sartr ijodi haqida "uning adabiy asarlaridagi obrazlar adabiy qahramondan ko'ra falsafiy tushunchalar va qarashlarning majozli edi"¹ degani, aslida, uning o'z asarlariga ham taalluqlidir. Shu ma'noda "Go'ro'g'li" nomanidagi qahramonlarini ijtimoiy munosabatlar doirasidagina talqin qilish, romanni to'la qonli tushunishga monelik qiladi.

N.Eshonqulning inson konsepsiyasida tiriklik, erkinlik va fikrlovchilik sinonim tushunchalar. Faqat “erkinlik” masalasida adibning qarashlari Nisshe qarashlariga yaqin turadi. Ya’ni adib bu tushunchada nafaqat jism va ruh erkinligi, balki iroda erkinligini ham ko’zda tutadi. Shu ma’noda, roman badiiy konsepsiyasi talqinida muayyan bir jamiyat, davr yoki tuzum doirasi bilan cheklanib qolish xato bo’ladi. Aslida, N.ning o’z tirikligini isbotlashga urinishi insoniyatning butun madaniy tarixi, mavjudlikning asoslari va koinotga nisbatan ko’targan isyoni edi. Bu yo’lda yozuvchi roman kompozitsiyasini qahramon va Xudo, qahramon va jamiyat, qahramon va “men” qarama-qarshiligi ustiga quradi.

“Go’ro’g’li” romani qahramoni N. absurd zamon va makonda to’kis shakllangan absurd odam edi. Nazar Eshonqul salafлари, jumladan, milliy adabiyotimizdagi modernistlardan farqli o’laroq o’zining inson konsepsiyasini ekzistensial falsafa asosida yaratadi. N.Eshonqul boshqalardan farqli holda absurd odamni konseptual ravishda, G’arb faylasuf va san’atkorlarining falsafiy-estetik qarashlariga suyanib yirik epik ko’lamda tafakkur qildi, adabiyotimizga insonning ilgari kuzatilmagan unikal badiiy konsepsiyasini taqdim etdi.

Ahmad A’zamning “Ro’yo yohud G’ulistonga safar” romanida erksizligini anglab yetmagan, erk tushunchasini tasavvur ham qila olmaydigan, tug’ilishi bilan zanjirband etilib, shu qullikni o’ziga sharaf deb biladigan kishilar jamiyati gavgdalandtirilgan. Adibni erk uchun kurashuvchilar emas, erksizlikka ko’nib yashovchilar taqdiri, ularning ruhiy-ma’naviy olami, kechmishlari ko’proq qiziqtiradi. Ya’ni muallif asardan ko’zlagan badiiy maqsadning o’ziyoq kinoyaviy.

Romanni o’qirkansiz, muallif inson konsepsiyasini yaratishda muhim bir savolga javob izlayotganiga amin bo’lasiz. U roman markazga “Odam uchun oliy qadriyat farovonlikmi yoki erkinlikmi?” degan savolni qo’yadi. Shu savolga javob izlarkan, asarda G’ulistonning farovon hayot manzaralarini tasvirlashga alohida urg’u beradi.

A.A’zamning inson konsepsiyasida ham erkinlik eng oliy qadriyat sifatida ko’riladi. U ham erksiz insonni tirik murdaga qiyoslaydi. Inson o’ziga xos xatolari, kamchilik va illatlari bilan birga erkin bo’lishi, o’zini bor-boricha namoyon qila olishi kerak degan g’oyani ilgari suradi.

Bobning “Mustaqillik davri o’zbek romanlarida postmodernistik dunyoqarash va insonning badiiy ifodasi” nomli faslida o’zbek postmodern romanlariga xos inson konsepsiyasi tadqiq etilgan.

Postmodernizm yo’nalishidagi asarda insonning badiiy konsepsiyasi oldingi metodlarga nisbatan jiddiy farq qiladi. Bu yo’nalish insonning olamdagi o’rni va vazifasini belgilarkan, uni bema’ni va xaotik olamning yengiltak, darbadar fuqarosi sifatida tasvirlashga, bashariyat butun tarixi mobaynida egallagan tajriba, qadriyat, bilim va tasavvurlarni puchga chiqarishga, “yolg’on dunyo”ni yolg’onlar bilan bezab ko’rsatishga moyil.

Postmodernizm u qadar ijobiy hodisa sanamasak-da, o’zbek jamiyati postmodernizmni vujudga keltirgan ijtimoiy, ruhiy, ma’naviy omillardan butunlay yiroq degan xulosada emasmiz. Jumladan, milliy nasrimizda mazkur o’ziga xos yoʻnalishning kurtaklari, unga xos belgi va alomatlarining koʻrina boshlanganiga ancha yillar boʻldi.

Milliy adabiyotimizga postmodernizm yoʻnalishining taʼsiri haqida soʻz borarkan, I.Sultonning “Boqiy darbadar” va Ulugʻbek Hamdamning “Yoʻl” romanlari alohida diqqatga molik. Mazkur ikki romanni bir talay badiiy, ijtimoiy-falsafiy omillar oʻzaro birlashtirib turadi. Bundan tashqari, romanlarda postmodernizmning qator ifodaviy-shakliy xususiyatlari ham namoyon boʻladi. Xususan, ifodada olamning xaotik manzaralaridan qochmaslik, anʼanaviy “metarivoyatlar” oʻrniga “kichik hikoyatlar”ni taqdim etish, intertekstuallik, janrlar mutatsiyasi kabi alomatlar, bir qarashda, sanalgan romanlarni postmodernizm yoʻnalishi mahsuli sifatida baholashga undaydi. Biroq “Boqiy darbadar” va “Yoʻl” romanlari oʻz mohiyati bilan postmodernizmning bosh falsafasini inkor qiladi. Yaʼni bu romanlarda beʼmani – xaos deb koʻrilgan olamdan maʼni qidirish, insoniyatning saodat manzilini belgilash maqsadi turadi.

“Boqiy darbadar” – mavjudlikning mazmun-mohiyati haqidagi roman. Roman badiiy konsepsiyasi markazida zamonaviy dunyoda insonni anglash, uning hayotiy maqsad va vazifalari belgilash muammosi turadi.

I.Sulton oʻz romanida bashar tarixining yagona modelini turli tarixiy voqealar, qadimgi sivilizatsiyalar, paygʻambarlar, avliyolar, ulugʻ olimlar, qadimiy shaharlar, asori atiqalar, zamonaviy ilm-fan va texnologiya yutuqlari, gipotezalar, jahon falsafasiga xos turli yoʻnalish va qarashlarga xos “matn”larning oʻzaro kesishgan nuqtasida yaratishga urinadiki, bunda u postmodernizmga xos intertekstuallik imkonlaridan samarali foydalanadi.

I.Sulton zamonaviy inson konsepsiyasini yaratishda XXI asr kishisining dunyo haqidagi parokanda tasavvurlari, bemaqsad turmushi va mavhum kelajagini boricha koʻrsatishga urinadi.

Ulugʻbek Hamdamning “Yoʻl” romani markazida ham inson mavjudligining bosh haqiqati va shu haqiqatga eltuvchi eng toʻgʻri yoʻlni qidirayotgan qahramon turadi.

“Yoʻl” falsafiy-majoziy roman boʻlib, undagi barcha obraz, barcha voqea-hodisalar real voqelik, insoniyat tarixi va kelajagi, axloqi va qadriyatlarini, mavjudlik haqidagi bilim hamda qarashlari bilan aloqador muayyan ramziy maʼnoni kasb etadi. Shu maʼnoda Ulugʻbek Hamdam ham oʻz badiiy konsepsiyasini yaratarkan, postmodernizm imkonlaridan keng foydalanadi. Yaʼni olamning yaxlit badiiy modelini yaratishda fragmentlarga, kichik-kichik hikoyalarga – intertekstuallikka tayanadi.

Xuddi “Boqiy darbadar” romanida kuzatganimiz kabi “Yoʻl” romanida ham qahramon manziliga yetib bora olmaydi. Balki topgan haqiqati shu YOʻLning oʻzigina boʻladi.

Anʼanaviy metodlarda ijodiy jarayonning natijasi – tugal asar muhim boʻlsa, postmodernizmda ijodiy jarayonning oʻzi muhim. Yaʼni ijodkor oʻz badiiy konsepsiyasida yakuniy hukm-xulosa yaratishni maqsad qilmaydi, balki jarayonni boricha koʻrsatish maqsadga aylanadi. Postmodernizmga xos mazkur omilning Sharq mumtoz falsafasi bilan o‘zaro mushtarak nuqtalari bo‘lib, bu o‘rinda talqinlar farqli xolos.

Yuriy Borev insoniyat tarixidagi paradigmalarni tartibi bilan sanarkan, modernizmdan keyingi (hozirgi) davrni “Sharq modeli” deb ataydi. Unga ko‘ra: *“Sharq madaniyatlari olg‘a surayotgan paradigma jamiyat hayotining ideal va maqsadlarini ko‘rsatmaydi, balki donishmandlik va purtadbirlilik ila uning yo‘lini belgilab beradi”*¹.

Yuriy Borevning “Sharq modeli” haqidagi fikrlari “Boqiy darbadar” va “Yo‘l” romanlarining mazmun-mohiyatiga ham juda mos keladi. Zero har ikki romanda ham muallif uchun tugal voqelik emas, YO‘L muhimroq. Ikki romanning badiiy konsepsiyasida ham anglangan manzil (ideal) tasviri emas, balki shu manzilga eltuvchi yo‘l va unga qadar yo‘lovchining toblanib borishi muhim. “Boqiy darbadar” va “Yo‘l” romanlarini mumtoz adabiyot namunalari farqlovchi muhim jihatlar shuki, bu ikki roman qahramonlari o‘zlari ko‘zlagan manzilga yetib bora olishmaydi. Cheksiz savollar va mavhum yo‘llar qarshisidan o‘z manzillarini izlashda davom etaveradilar.

Har ikki yozuvchi ham olam manzaralarini xaotik shaklda tavirlasa-da, ular o‘z asarlari markaziga shu bema‘nidek ko‘ringan olamdan ma‘ni qidirayotgan qahramonlarni qo‘yadi. Bu qahramonlar asar voqeligida olam haqiqatiga yetishmasa-da, borar manzilini aniq bilmasa-da eng to‘g‘ri yo‘lni qidirishdan, hayotiga mazmun bag‘ishlashdan ortga chekinmaydi. Shu ma‘noda, ularning inson konsepsiyasi markazida bashar darbadarlikdan qutqarish maqsadi turadi.

“Boqiy darbadar”dagi professor Ziyoning o‘g‘li “Men hozir dunyoning har bir mamlakatida, har bir go‘shasida, halol va imonli kishilar bilan bir qatorda, ana shunday darbadar insonlarni ham ko‘rmoqdaman... Shunday darbadarlikka muhtalo bo‘lmaslikning yo‘llarini izlamoqdaman”² desa, “Yo‘l” romani qahramoni Haqqa eltuvchi eng to‘g‘ri yo‘lni izlashdan charchagan vaqtda nogoh yana bir yo‘lga ko‘zi tushib qoladi: “Qani uning birgina yo‘lovchisi? Ketib qoldimi yo? Mayli ketgan bo‘lsa, muhimi, yo‘l bor-ku!” deyman o‘zinga o‘zim”³. Garchi qahramon to‘g‘ri yo‘lni topa olmagan, manzilini anglab yetmagan esa-da, u Haqiqat yo‘lining borligiga shubha qilmaydi.

Sharqliklar dunyoqarashida dunyoning ma‘nisiz ekanligiga ishoratlar azaldan mavjud. Hind, xitoy, musulmon elatlari falsafalarini (daosizm, konfutsiy, induizm, sufizm) kuzatar ekanmiz, ularning barida dunyoning o‘tkinchi matoh ekanligi urg‘ulanganiga guvoh bo‘lamiz. Ya‘ni Sharq kishisi uchun doim taqdiri azalning haqligi, dunyoning foni ekanligi muhim bo‘lgan. Shu sababdan u ideal va ma‘noni real olamdan emas, undan tashqarida izlagan. Xuddi shunday, agar u foni dunyoda ma‘nisizlikni ko‘rsa-da, chinakam tartib va butunlikni idrok etish uchun inson tafakkuri o‘zlashtirishga ham iymon keltira oladi. “Sharq kishisi, – yozadi professor Abdug‘afur Rasulov, – e‘tiqodi bo‘yicha, hamma yo‘llar iymon, haqiqat va Ollohni tanishga olib boradi. Sharqning eng mustahkam ideali aslida shundan iborat, u o‘zini olam markazida ko'rmaydi. Sharq kishisi faqat o'z davrasi, yaqinlari, millati, davlati ichidagina shaxs bo'la oladi. Bu g'oyaning hayotiyligi qarshisida Boqiy darbadarning taqdiri, Yevropa faylasuflari ta'kidlagani kabi dahshatli taqdir emas"¹. Olimning bu gaplarining isbotini shaklda har qancha yangilanmasin, o'z mohiyatida sharqona yashash falsafasini saqlab qolgan zamonaviy nasrimiz namunalarida ham ko'ramiz. Xususan, Ulug'bek Hamdam va I.Sultonning inson konsepsiyasida ham olamni anglash yo'lida inson irodasidan tashqaridagi Kuchning ifodasi, insonni dunyo charxpalagining oddiy, ammo kuzatuvdagi yo'lovchisi sifatida tasvirlashga bo'lgan harakat mavjud.

“Boqiy darbadar” va “Yo'l” romanlaridagi sharqona tafakkur g'arbcha dunyoqarashni tamomila inkor etgan. Milliy nasrimiz qahramonlari o'z mavjudligidagi haqiqatni turli yo'llardan qidirarkan, muallif aniq bir hukm, Idealni ko'rsatishga o'z ekanligini yashirmaydi. Biroq ularning qahramonlari ana shu Idealni qidirishdan to'xtamaydi. Shunday ekan, zamonaviy o'zbek nasridagi mazkur omilni G'arb postmodernizmi va Sharq mumtoz falsafasi sintezining mahsuli sifatida baholash hamda hodisaga nisbatan o'zbek postmodern adabiyoti istilohini qo'llashni to'g'ri deb hisoblaymiz.

UMUMIY XULOSALAR

1. Badiiy adabiyotning bosh maqsadi – olamni bilish. Mazkur vazifani amalga oshirish uchun adabiyot voqea-hodisalar markaziga insonni qo'yadi. Olam va odam munosabatlarini o'zining yaxlit badiiy modeli – laboratoriyasida tajribadan o'tkazadi, katta xulosalar chiqaradi. Badiiy adabiyotning muayyan davrda insonning olamdagi maqomi, maqsad va vazifalari yuzasidan chiqargan yaxlit hukmi esa inson konsepsiyasidir.

2. Insoniyat tarixining har bir davri shu insonning borliqdagi o'rni, hayotiy maqsad va vazifalarini o'ziga xos tarzda tushunish hamda talqin qilishi evaziga vujudga kelgan. Tarixning muayyan bosqichidagi yangi shart-sharoit o'zi bilan birga insonning yangi badiiy konsepsiyasini ham olib keladi. Shunday ekan, inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasi orqali biz adabiyotni davrlashtirish va baholash imkoniga egamiz.

3. Badiiy tafakkur inson tafakkuri bilan uzviy taraqqiy topadi. Ya'ni odam bolasining tarixdagi ijtimoiy, madaniy, iqtisodiy, siyosiy harakatlari bevosita shu davr adabiyotida aks etdi. Ovchi va terimchilar madaniyati davrida adabiyotning arxaik bosqichi, agrar madaniyatda adabiyotning traditsionalistik bosqichi, ilmiy-texnologik madaniyatda esa individual-ijodiy adabiyot yetakchilik qilgan. Mazkur tasnif anchayin mahobatli, ularning har birini yana o'nlab qism – davrlarga ajralishi mumkin. Milliy adabiyotimiz misolida XX asr boshlaridagi tarixiy shart-sharoit va jadid adabiyoti, sho'rolar davri va sho'ro adabiyoti, mustaqillik va mustaqillik davri adabiyoti kabi bosqichlarni ajratish mumkin.

4. Roman inson konsepsiyasini aks ettirishda eng maqbul janrdir. Zero tarix sahnasida romanning janriy evolyutsiyasi shaxs evolyutsiyasi bilan parallel tarzda kechadi. Kishilik jamiyatining rivojlanishi, o'sishi va murakkablashishi ortidan roman ham asrlar davomida o'z janriy imkoniyatlarini kengaytirib bordi. Shu ma'noda, roman – eng beqaror janr. Biroq ming yillar davomida roman har qancha turlanmasin uning azaliy maqsadi – zamonaviy inson (shaxs)ni anglash muammosi o'zgarishsiz qoldi. Demak, romanning bosh muammosi inson ekan, romaniy tafakkurning negizi ham inson konsepsiyasidir.

5. Yirik nazariyotchilar roman janri tabiatini belgilashda real ijtimoiy shaxsning asarda qay darajada badiiy aks ettirilishiga e'tibor qaratgan. Ya'ni romanning janr sifatidagi muhim xususiyatlari ham inson konsepsiyasi orqali namoyon bo'ladi. Inson konsepsiyasi kategoriyasi vositasida romanchilikning tarixiy taraqqiyotini o'rganish, janr tabiati yuzasidan nazariy-ilmiy xulosalar chiqarish mumkin. Shu ma'noda, Yue va Blankenburg individ (shaxs)ning gavdalanishi, Gegel individ (shaxs)ning gavdalanishi va uning jamiyat bilan ziddiyati, Baxtin esa individ (shaxs)ning gavdalanishi va uning jamiyat hamda o'z-o'zi bilan ziddiyati (polifonizm) tasvirida roman janrni ko'radi.

6. Mustaqillik davri romanchiligida inson konsepsiyasi muammosini to'laqonli o'rganish uchun, Sho'ro tuzumi tanazzulga yuz tuta boshlagan va yangi inson konsepsiyasiga ehtiyoj tug'ilgan davrga qaytish, mazkur muammoning badiiy, ijtimoiy-ruhiy omillarini o'tgan asrning 80-yillaridan qidirish zarur. Shu ma'noda mustaqillik davri o'zbek romanlari tom ma'noda 80-yillar romanchiligining vorisidir.

7. M.Muhammad Do'st "Lolazor" romanida inson konsepsiyasini shaxsning o'z-o'zini anglash va o'zini namoyon etish ehtiyoji nuqtai nazaridan yaratadi. U total siyosat va yolg'onlar asosiga qurilgan jamiyatda o'zlikni anglash darajasini shu yolg'onga sherik bo'lmaslikda ko'radi. Jamiyatda yolg'onda yashamaslikni ixtiyor etgan kishilar soni ortib borsa, yolg'on tuzum o'z-o'zidan yemirila boshlaydi degan aqidani ilgari suradi. "Lolazor" milliy adabiyotimizda hokimiyatni anglashni, hukmron elitaga xos murakkab ruhiy tovlanishlarni ko'rsatishni maqsad qilgan nodir asar. Keyingi davrlarda "Lolazor" kabi siyosiy tuzum va hukmron elitani anglashga qaratilgan romanlar yozilmadi. Sababi ehtiyoj bo'lmadi. Zotan, biz roman badiiy voqeligida tasvirlangan siyosiy madaniyat, ijtimoiy-siyosiy munosabatlardan hali u qadar olislab ketganimizcha yo'q.

8. Istiqlolning dastlabki yillarida yangi jamiyat xilma-xil qarashlar, g'oya va manfaatlar ustiga qurila boshlandi. Bu insonning badiiy konsepsiyasida ham aks etdi. O'zbek romanchiligi ijodiy tajribalar maydoniga aylandi. Erkin adabiyot, erkin odam haqida aniq badiiy konsepsiyaga ega bo'lmagan ijodkorlar tabiiy ravishda tajribalarga qo'l uradilar va turli qarash va g'oyalarga bog'liq ravishda insonning turfa xil badiiy konsepsiyalarini taqdim etadi. Kimdir mavjudlikni falsafiy aspektda o'rganib, modernizm, postmodernizm kabi yo'nalishlar talqinidagi inson konsepsiyasini ilgari sursa, yana kim diniy-tasavvufiy ta'limotlarga murojaat etadi. Lekin tahlillarimizdan ma'lum bo'ldiki, mustaqillik davri o'zbek romanlari markazida erkin inson konsepsiyasi turadi.

9. Mustaqillik davri romanlarda inson konsepsiyasining bosh mavzularidan biri Sho'ro tuzumi hamda paradoksal shart-sharoitda umr kechirgan insonning mavqei masalasi bo'lgan. Romannavislar istiqlol yillarida turib o'tmish manzaralariga qaytish, voqea-hodisalarni qayta baholash va ko'p hollarda, o'tmishni o'zlari yashayotgan davrga qiyoslashga ehtiyoj sezganlar. Mazkur tendensiya qariyb 25-yil, to 70–80-yillarda shakllangan adabiy avlodning ijodiy faolligi tabiiy ravishda so'na boshlagunga qadar davom etdi. Bunday asarlar sirasidan “Otamdan qolgan dalalar”, “Bu dunyoda o'lib bo'lmaydi”, “Tushda kechgan umrlar”, “Adolat manzili”, “Kapalaklar o'yini”, “Jaziramadagi odamlar”, “Shovqin”, “Ro'yo yohud G'ulistonga safar”, “Go'ro'g'li” va yana o'nlab romanlarni sanash mumkin.

10. Tarixiy romanlar yozish tendensiyasi istiqlol yillari o'zbek adabiyotida kuzatilgan yana bir yirik hodisadir. Yozuvchilar xalqimizning qadim va yaqin tarixini jonlantirish, o'tmishda yashab o'tgan ulug' ajdodlarimiz siymosini yaratish orqali istibdod davrlari jamiyatda yo'qola yozgan milliy o'zlikni shakllantirishga uringanlar. Tarixiy mavzuda roman yozish, birinchidan, ijodkorning shaxsiy ehtiyoji va tashabbusidan bo'lsa, ikkinchidan, ijtimoiy buyurtma ham edi.

11. Mustaqillikdan so'ng jamiyatning ijtimoiy ongiga jiddiy ta'sir o'tkazgan, ijtimoiy-madaniy, ruhiy-ma'naviy evrilishlarning asosiy sababchisi bo'lgan omil, bizningcha, iqtisodiy islohotlardir. Ya'ni o'zbek xalqi sotsialistik jamiyatdan bozor iqtisodiyotiga asoslangan kapitalistik jamiyatga qadam qo'ydi. Bu esa, o'z navbatida insonga, uning moddiy va ma'naviy ehtiyojlariga bo'lgan munosabatni tubdan yangilash zaruratini tug'dirdi. Mazkur zaruratni his qilgan “o'tish davri” romannavislari kapitalistik jamiyatni badiiy idrok qilish orqali ekonomik odamni anglashga urindilar.

12. O'zbek modern romannavislari ham faqat shakliylar bilan cheklanib qolmay, o'z davrlari uchun insonning yangi badiiy konsepsiyasini ham taqdim etdilar. Milliy modern romanlarning xarakterli jihati shuki, ularning deyarli barida “erkin inson” konsepsiyasi bosh mavzu bo'ldi.

13. I.Sultonning “Boqiy darbadar” va Ulug'bek Hamdamning “Yo'l” romanlari mualliflar inson konsepsiyasini yaratishda olamning xaotik ifodasidan qochmaydi. Biroq har ikki yozuvchi ham o'z asarlari markaziga bema'nidek ko'ringan olamdan ma'ni qidirayotgan qahramonlarni qo'yadi. Shu ma'noda, “Boqiy darbadar” va “Yo'l” romanlaridagi sharqona tafakkur g'arbcha dunyoqarashni tamomila inkor etgan.

14. G'arb postmodernistlarining inson konsepsiyasida odam kaosni tan olib, unda bor-boricha (bema'ni) hayot kechirish yo'lini tanlasa, milliy adabiyotimizdagi inson konsepsiyasida odamni kaos deb ko'rilgan jarayondan qochishga chorlash, hayotdan ma'no va butunlikni qidirishga undash kuchli. Shunday ekan, zamonaviy o'zbek nasridagi mazkur omilni G'arb postmodernizmi va Sharq mumtoz falsafasi sintezining mahsuli sifatida baholash hamda hodisaga nisbatan o'zbek postmodern adabiyoti istilohini qo'llashni to'g'ri deb hisoblaymiz.

15. Mustaqillik davri romanchiligi ijodiy tajribalarda ham, badiiy-g'oyaviy jihatdan xilma-xillikda ham, olamni turfa rakurslardan badiiy idrok etishda va yangi inson konsepsiyasini taqdim qilishda ham Sho'rolar davri romanchiligidan ancha ilg'orlab ketdi. Ahamiyatlisi, romanchiligimizdagi har bir to'lqin va insonning badiiy konsepsiyasi o'tgan davr mobaynida ijtimoiy hayotimizda sodir bo'lgan muayyan hodisa, kayfiyat, jarayon va shunga monand ehtiyojning natijasidir.

INTRODUCTION (Abstract of the DSc dissertation)

Topicality and necessity of the thesis. In world literary studies, the concept of human is considered one of the most important issues. This issue becomes especially relevant and gains paramount importance when applied to the novel. Indeed, the novel takes human as a means of understanding and evaluating the world, while using human needs and capabilities, goals and aspirations as the main criteria. The writer systematizes views on the relationships between the world and humanity, one's place and status in existence, and life goals and tasks based on the spiritual, moral, and social values of the contemporary individual. It would be accurate to say that these elements form the foundation of the human literary concept and serve as both the driving force and the outcome of the novel's creation.

In the field of world literary studies, the concept of human is examined as a product of the socio-historical, cultural, and educational conditions of a specific period. The issue of human concept is interpreted as a category that necessitates the formal and substantive transformation and renewal of literature, particularly the novel, in each era. Therefore, studying this problem from a historical and theoretical perspective allows for an assessment of the ideological-content and poetic uniqueness of the literature of a particular period, particularly the novel, and the identification of trends in its development.

In Uzbek literary studies, evaluating the literary phenomena characteristic of novels from the independence period and nurturing our people, especially the younger generation, with the aesthetic power of our national literature, is of paramount importance. As President Sh.M.Mirziyoyev emphasized, "Attention to literature, art, and culture is, first and foremost, attention to our people and our future. As our great poet Chulpon said, we have no right to forget that if literature and culture live, then a nation can survive"¹. These tasks are primarily realized through the study of the concept of man in our literature. Indeed, Uzbek novels of the independence period differ from the literature of the past era, primarily in terms of the shift in attitude towards individuals and the attempt to portray the relationship between the world and humanity from new perspectives. The literature of this period realized its untapped potential that had been suppressed under the Soviet system, and began to address aspects of human life and psyche that were previously obscured or subject to unofficial prohibition. These circumstances led to the manifestation of diverse human concepts in the literature of the time, the formation of ideological and literary pluralism, and consequently, an environment of creative competition, which is crucial for the development of literary thinking.

Relevant research priority areas of science and developing technology of the Republic. The dissertation was carried out in accordance with the priority direction of science and technology development of the Republic of Uzbekistan: “Social, economic, cultural, spiritual and educational development of the information society and democratic state, and development of an innovative economy”.

Review of foreign scientific research on the topic of the dissertation¹. The problem of the human concept in world literature is being scientifically and practically researched in leading scientific centers and higher educational institutions worldwide, including the University of Indiana, the University of Michigan (USA), Istanbul University, Ankara University (Turkey), Humboldt University, Bonn University, Freiburg University (Germany), Paris University (France), Cambridge University (Great Britain), Moscow State University, Petersburg State University, the Institute of Uzbek Language, Literature and Folklore, the National University of Uzbekistan, the Tashkent State University of Uzbekistan, and the University of Uzbekistan. Petersburg State University (Russian Federation), Institute of Uzbek Language, Literature and Folklore, National University of Uzbekistan, Alisher Navo’i Tashkent State University of Uzbek Language and Literature and Andijan State University.

The following achievements have been made in world literary studies regarding the role of the human concept category in the periodization of literature, the development of the novel genre, and the evaluation of the ideological and aesthetic significance of specific works:

It has been established that the emergence of the novel genre is primarily a result of a change in attitude towards individuals and the depiction of individual character traits of real people in literature (Cambridge University, Oxford University). It has been proven that the periodization of literature, particularly the evolution of the novel genre, is based on the concept of human nature (Moscow State University, Saint Petersburg State University). It has been determined that the introduction of the novel genre into our national literature is not only the result of external influences but also related to the emergence of a need for a new concept of humanity in the region and social consciousness (Institute of Uzbek Language, Literature and Folklore, National University of Uzbekistan, Andijan State University).

In world literary studies, research on the concept of human is conducted in the following priority areas: identifying the characteristics of the development of literary thinking and its interrelation with the concept of human; determining the essential features of the human concept in the evaluation of literary works. These directions are particularly significant in relation to the novel. This is because the novel is founded on understanding the relationship between humans and the universe. Studying Uzbek novels of the independence period from this perspective reveals important trends characteristic of the literature of that era.

The extent of study of the problem. The concept of the human being has been thoroughly studied in world literature, particularly in Russian literary studies¹. Russian literary scholar L. Timofeev first employed the term “concept of personality” in his scientific works written in the 1950s. Later, in his work “Aesthetic Ways of Studying Personality (From the Experience of Soviet Literature)” (1975), the scholar conducted productive research on the formation of new types of protagonists and the characteristics of national identity, as well as on the new concept and features of personality in post-revolutionary literature. The scholar’s research demonstrated that studying the problem of the concept of personality lays the foundation for important theoretical conclusions and aids in finding solutions to issues related to the history and theory of literature.

Literary scholar S. Bocharov considers the concept of human as one of the central problems of a literary work and the creative process as a whole. L. Ginzburg’s monographs “On the Literary Hero” (1979) and “Literature in Search of Reality” (1987) theoretically substantiated the concept of human as an important category in literary studies. In his doctoral dissertation “Poetics of A. Solzhenitsyn’s Prose”, A. Urmanov employs the term as “literary concept of personality” and explains it as “a set of the writer’s aesthetic ideas about the essence of human, their purpose and meaning in existence and how close (or distant) they are to the elements inherent in human nature”².

L. Kolobayeva's monograph "The Concept of Personality in Russian Literature of the Late 19th and Early 20th Centuries"² plays a significant role in the establishment and systematic study of the category of human concept. The scholar demonstrates the formation and gradual development of the human concept in Russian literature through the works of authors such as A.Chekhov, M.Gorky, I.Bunin, A.Blok, and L.Andreev.

It is also noteworthy that in 1980, a major conference dedicated to the problem of the concept of personality in Soviet literature was held in Yerevan, Armenia³. Major literary scholars such as N. Gey, Y. Borev, S. Agabayan, G. Alibekova, S. Sariyan, M. Shukurov, N.Vorobeva, G.Khusainov, L. Kirakoyan, S. Khitarova and V. Shcherbina participated in the conference and thoroughly examined this literary issue.

The study of the concept of man in Uzbek literary criticism from a monographic perspective began after independence⁴. In this context, H.Karimov's research titled "The Truth of Life and the Concept of Human in Contemporary Uzbek Prose (70s and 80s)" is noteworthy. The scholar doesn't limit himself to the period specified in the dissertation topic but draws important conclusions about the expression of the concept of personality in modern Uzbek literature in general. He enumerates the trends characteristic of Uzbek prose in the 30s, 40s, and 50s, noting that a "major qualitative change" occurred only by the end of the 60s. According to him, from this period, "a new concept of personality, conflicts, and characters of a new type emerged". The scholar points out that these distinctive features in literature are primarily manifested in the portrayal of man, emphasizing that "the concept of man reflects the entire existence of the era and society - the development, contradictions, problems, and negative situations born from the demands of the time"⁵.

Another significant research on the topic is M.Muhiddinov's dissertation titled "The Concept of Human in the Works of Alisher Navoi and His Predecessors". In this study, the problem of the concept of man is explored based on examples from classical literature and Sufi ideas.

In addition to the aforementioned works, the following dissertations also examine literary phenomena in the context of the concept of man: S.Matyakupov's "The Concept of Human and the Literary Interpretation of Personality in Contemporary Uzbek Short Stories", M.Juraeva's "The Concept of a New Man in Modern Uzbek Prose (Based on the Short Stories of Abduqayum Yuldashev and Zulfiya Qurolboy qizi)” and N.Kabulova’s “The Concept of Time and Human in the Prose of Erkin Azam”.

Uzbek novels of the independence period have not yet been studied as a holistic system or in their evolutionary development within the framework of the human concept problem.

The connection of the research with the research work of the research institution where the dissertation was completed. The research was carried out in accordance with the scientific research plan of the Department of Uzbek Literary Studies at Andijan State University, within the framework of the topic “Current Issues in Uzbek Literary Studies”.

The purpose of the research is to conduct a progressive study of the historical development of Uzbek novel writing through the lens of human conceptualization. It seeks to identify the literary, social, psychological, and spiritual factors that played a crucial role in shaping the literary and ideological formation of novels during the independence period. Furthermore, the study aims to create a comprehensive novelistic portrait of individuals characteristic of Uzbek novel writing.

The tasks of the research. Based on the main goal, the following scientific tasks were set before the research:

To demonstrate that the concept of the individual is the central issue in literature, including the novel genre, and to examine the development of the novel genre in the context of the human concept category;

To reveal, based on the category of human concept, that the literary trends characteristic of Uzbek novels in the independence period are largely connected with the traditions of Uzbek novels from the Soviet era;

To substantiate, from the perspective of the human concept, that Uzbek novels of the independence period are not only an aesthetic phenomenon but also a socio-literary one;

To periodize Uzbek novels of the independence era based on the concept of the individual and to identify the literary trends characteristic of each periodic stage;

To conduct a specialized study of transitional period novel writing as a socio-literary phenomenon, revealing the significance of the human concept in shaping the trends characteristic of the literature of the era;

To uncover the influence of socio-economic conditions specific to socialist and capitalist systems on the literary concept of humanity and literary principles in novel writing;

To examine the literary trends characteristic of Uzbek modern novel writing within the framework of the human concept, and to study the experimental applications of the absurd human concept in Uzbek literature;

To define Uzbek postmodern novel writing and its literary principles based on the category of the human concept.

The object of the study. It was created during the Soviet and Independence periods as an object of research Oybek's "Navoi", Said Ahmad's "Jimjitlik", Odil Yoqubov's "Adolat manzili", Shukur Kholmirezayev's "Dinozavr", Utkir Hoshimov's "Tushda kechgan umrlar", Omon Mukhtor's "Ming bir qiyofa", Murod Muhammad Dust's "Lolazor", Erkin Azam's "Shovqin", Ahmad Azam's "Ro'yo", Tog'ay Murod's "Otamdan qolgan dalalar", "Bu dunyoda o'lib bo'lmaydi", Nazar Eshonqul's "Go'ro'g'li", Luqmon Burikhan's "Jaziramadagi odamlar", Ulugbek Hamdam's novels "Muvozanat", "Yo'l", Isajon Sulton's "Alisher Navoiy", "Boqiy Darbadar", "Ozod" serve as the main source.

The subject of the research encompasses the renewal of the human concept in Uzbek novels of the independence period, its relationship with the human concept in Soviet-era novels; factors that influenced the renewal process, and the role and significance of global literary and socio-philosophical thought in this context.

Research methods. The study utilized comparative, comparative-typological, historical-theoretical, sociological, and hermeneutic methods of analysis.

The scientific novelty of the research consists from:

It has been demonstrated that the concept of human is the most crucial factor in the emergence and development of genre of the novel, in the definition the two-thousand-year historical stages of the genre, and in understanding and explaining it;

It has been proven that the emergence of Uzbek novels is directly related to historical conditions and changes in the concept of human in social thinking, as well as the arising need for literary expression of a new person in literature;

It is substantiated that the decline of the Soviet system allowed for the emergence of a new concept of the individual and laid the foundation for the novels of the independence period;

The literary trends characteristic of the novels of the transitional period are revealed to be inextricably linked to the social conditions of that era and the explorations of the concept of human.

It has been shown that the aesthetic factors which gave rise to modern Uzbek novel writing are inextricably linked not only to national and social phenomena, but also to the concept of humanity inherent in Western aesthetic thought and philosophy.

The factors that led to the emergence of Uzbek postmodern novel writing, the important characteristics specific to this direction, and the principles that form the basis for its development have been identified.

The practical results of the research are as follows:

The results of the research enrich the scientific community's knowledge about novel theory, the essence of the genre, and its path of historical development;

It provides an opportunity to evaluate the progress of Uzbek novel writing on a comprehensive, historical-evolutionary scale, allowing for a consistent understanding and drawing of conclusions about its inherent literary and ideological principles;

Studying the historical development of Uzbek novel writing in connection with the social conditions of specific periods allows for the periodization of its history;

The study of the evolution of the literary concept of man in Uzbek novels creates conditions for clearly defining the factors that distinguish between the novels of the Jadid, Soviet and independence periods;

The scientific conclusions drawn on Uzbek modern novels will help to understand and explain this direction, as well as determine the path of development;

The study of Uzbek postmodern novels from the perspective of the new human concept creates an opportunity to evaluate this direction from a literary and ideological point of view, and to determine its significance in the literary process;

The research findings expand knowledge and understanding of the development of Uzbek novel writing and its literary and ideological features.

The reliability of the research results. The reliability of the research results is determined by articles published in foreign and national scientific journals, presentations given at scientific and practical conferences, published theses and articles, as well as the appropriateness of the scientific approach to the object and the methods used for the research objectives. The reliability is further established by the theoretical information being based on scientific sources, the relevance of the sources used as objects to the research subject, the practical application of theoretical views and conclusions, and the validation of results by authorized structures.

Scientific and practical significance of research results. The scientific significance of the research results is determined by the identification of the main principles and characteristics unique to Uzbek novels of the independence period, as well as the elucidation of the importance and role of the human concept in the development of our national novel-writing.

The practical significance of the research results is evident in the fact that the conclusions and recommendations of the dissertation can be used in creating textbooks and manuals for students of higher educational institutions on subjects such as “Theory of Literature”, “History of Literature”, “History of Uzbek Literature”, “Uzbek Literature of the New Period” and “Fundamentals of Literary Analysis”. Additionally, they can be utilized in conducting lectures, practical and seminar classes, in writing master’s and doctoral dissertations, and in delivering lectures on the foundations of spirituality.

Implementation of research results. The scientific findings obtained during the investigation of the human concept in Uzbek novels of the independence period are reflected in the following:

The scientific conclusions of the dissertation were utilized in the scientific and technical project No. OT-A1-46 titled “Creation of a new generation of educational literature on theoretical courses in literary studies”. The dissertation author prepared illustrative materials for the term’s novel, concept, literary concept, literary image, types of literary image, and human image, which were included in the “Dictionary of Literary Studies”. These materials were used to elucidate the terms incorporated in the dictionary (as per Reference No. 32-01-837 of Andijan State University dated September 11, 2024). As a result, important literary terms in the “Dictionary of Literary Studies” were enriched with additional scientific explanations.

The dissertation’s scientific conclusions were utilized in creating textbooks for general education schools, specifically the “Literature” textbooks for 6th grade (Z. Mirzayeva, K. Jalilov, 2022), 7th grade (Z. Mirzayeva, K. Jalilov, 2022), and 10th grade (Z. Mirzayeva, K. Jalilov, 2022). These conclusions were particularly applied in covering topics such as literary heroes and literary characters, as well as in analyzing novels and stories like “Mehrobdan chayon” by Abdulla Qodiriy, “Yulduzli tunlar” by Pirimqul Qodirov, and “Dunyoning ishlari” (“Such is life”) by Utkir Hoshimov. They were also used to improve educational tasks related to these topics (as per Reference No. 01/11-01/6-196 dated March 31, 2023, from the Republican Education Center under the Ministry of Preschool and School Education). As a result, the textbooks have enriched the methods of explaining the concepts of literary heroes and literary characters to students. As a result, the textbooks enriched the methods of revealing the concepts of literary hero and literary image to the reader;

In illuminating theoretical topics such as Uzbek novel writing during the independence period, literary heroes, literary imagery, and the concept of literary works, the dissertation’s scientific conclusions on the gradual development of the human concept in Uzbek novels, the main features of the human concept in 21st-century Uzbek novels, literary explorations in creating the human concept in the “Transition Period” novels, and new principles of novelistic thinking were used in the National Curriculum for Literature. This curriculum was prepared in cooperation with UNICEF by the Ministry of Preschool and School Education, and includes Utkir Hoshimov’s novels “Ikki eshik orasi” and “Tushda kechgan umrlar” as well as Ulugbek Hamdam’s novel “Muvozanat” along with improved learning tasks related to these works. (Reference No. 01/11-01/6-197 of the Republican Education Center under the Ministry of Preschool and School Education dated March 31, 2023). As a result, the methods of explaining the content and essence of novels written during the years of independence to students have been improved in the classroom.

The dissertation’s conclusions regarding literary trends characteristic of 20th century and independence period Uzbek novels, as well as the literary concept of novelistic heroes and historical figures, were effectively utilized in episodes of the “Birgalikda ko‘ramiz” program on the “Madaniyat va ma’rifat” TV channel. These episodes were dedicated to the novels “Bygone Days” by Abdullah Qodiriy and “Alisher Navoi” by Isajon Sulton. The researcher personally participated in these shows and shared comprehensive theoretical insights about the analyzed novels (Reference No. 02-16/14 dated January 23, 2024, from the state institution “Madaniyat va ma’rifat” TV channel of the National Television and Radio Company of Uzbekistan). Consequently, important literary trends characteristic of Uzbek novel writing was explained in detail to the general public.

Approbation of the research results. The results of the research were discussed at two international and four national scientific-theoretical conferences.

Publication of the research results. Twenty-four scientific works have been published on the research topic. These include 1 monograph and 14 articles in scientific publications recommended by the Higher Attestation Commission of the Republic of Uzbekistan for publishing the main scientific results of doctoral dissertations. Of these articles, 12 were published in national scientific journals and 2 in international scientific journals.

The structure and scope of the dissertation. The dissertation consists of an introduction, four chapters, a conclusion, and a list of references, with a total volume of 234 pages.

MAIN CONTENT OF THE DISSERTATION

The introduction substantiates the relevance and necessity of the research topic, outlines the goals and objectives, as well as the object and subject of the dissertation. It demonstrates the alignment with priority directions of science and technology development in the republic, presents the scientific novelty and practical results of the research, and reveals the scientific and practical significance of the obtained results. The introduction also describes the implementation of research results into practice, the approbation process, and specifies the structure and scope of the research.

The first chapter of the dissertation, titled “The Concept of Human Being as a Significant Theoretical Issue in Literary Studies”, consists of two sections. The initial section of the chapter, “The Evolution of Literary Thought and the Concept of Human Being”, examines the problem of the gradual development of literary thought in the cultural history of humanity and the concept of human being, which has been integrally formed alongside this process.

Each new era in history has emerged through a unique understanding and interpretation of human’s place in existence, their life goals and tasks. Indeed, humanity interacts and builds societies based on its ideas and conclusions about itself.

In literary studies, the cognitive (heuristic) function is noted as the main task of fiction. Literature is founded on the goal of studying existence, events and phenomena within it, including humans: “Literary literature enriches our knowledge and perceptions about the world, people, and society through the literary comprehension of existence via images”¹. In pursuit of fulfilling this task, literature has placed humans at the center of events and phenomena.

Literature, by creating a comprehensive literary model of the relationship between the world and humanity, has the ability to seek answers to questions through various creative experiments and to present its conclusions through “living” characters. This very aspect, namely the holistic judgment of literary fiction on the status of humans in the world, their goals and tasks within a specific work, author, or period, constitutes the concept of humanity.

Literary scholar Mikhail Golberg defines the concept of human as follows: “The concept of human is a very comprehensive category that manifests itself as a complex of the inner essence of a person’s worldview, ideology, morality, aesthetic connections, and other forms of relationships with the world”¹. It is evident that the creator arrives at a comprehensive, holistic judgment about the universe through the human concept.

Although the concept of human is crucial in evaluating a literary work, it has been relatively understudied as a distinct category in literary studies. Books on literary theory barely touch upon the definition of this category, and it is absent from the dictionary of literary terms. In our opinion, this is because the category of human concept is usually considered within the framework of literary concept.

In Russian literary studies, the term “human concept” was first used by L. Timofeev in the 1950s. From this period onwards, it became possible to encounter this concept frequently in various studies.

Another important aspect of the category of human concept is that it allows us to periodize and evaluate literature. Indeed, literary thinking develops in correlation with human thinking and its social status. In other words, the social, cultural, economic, and political development of humans on the stage of history directly translates into fiction. Our worldview, shaped by specific social conditions, and how we define our place in existence, form the paradigm of this period. The newly formed paradigm conceptually manifests itself, first and foremost, in fiction.

The renowned Finnish scholar P. Kuusi classifies the cultural evolution of humanity into the following three major stages:

1. Hunting and gathering culture;
2. Agricultural culture;
3. Scientific-technological culture².

These three cultural stages and the social conditions characteristic of these periods play a crucial role in our study of the development of aesthetic thinking. This is because aesthetic thinking is formed based on human life goals and ideals of these times. Consequently, in the matter of periodizing literature, there are three periods, just as in the historical and cultural stages of humanity. These are the archaic, traditionalist, and individual-creative literary stages³.

In the archaic stage, art was a unified phenomenon (just as people lived collectively, without distinguishing individual needs). During this period, there were no boundaries separating different types of art; in fact, the concept of art types did not exist. The undivided nature of human thought in the archaic stage is directly related to the conditions of the Paleolithic period and the collective way of life. Indeed, during this period, human consciousness developed not on the basis of multifaceted social relationships, but under the influence of natural phenomena and environmental conditions.

The subsequent phase of literature - the relatively prolonged period of traditionalism - is attributed to several factors, including the near-stagnant social conditions over centuries, the stability of the feudal system, strong religious beliefs, weak inter-societal communication, and the “delayed” scientific revolution. The most distinguishing feature of traditionalism is the dominance of convention in the creative process. The primary reason for this traditionalism is explained by the absolute nature of judgments regarding the human concept. In other words, a creator’s views on humanity could not deviate from the literary canons of that era. Such deviation would not only be considered contrary to art but also a form of religious transgression. Consequently, during this period, art, like other fields, could not exist outside the realm of religion.

The connection between aesthetic concepts and ethics in classical literature¹ is closely tied to the era’s concept of the human being. Indeed, in the eyes of classical thinkers, the true beauty of a person lies in their spiritual beauty. Due to such factors, realistic depiction of humans during this period did not hold literary value.

The main distinguishing feature of the individual-creative literary thinking stage is the expression of a real social person’s experiences - an individual’s feelings and unique perspective - within the work.

Although individual-creative literary thinking encompasses a large phase known as modern Uzbek literature, we must remember that this phase itself is divided into several periods. Indeed, individual-creative literary thinking, formed on the basis of many common law’s characteristic of the 20th and 21st centuries, also has internal stages that emerged under the influence of the human concept, which arose from the varying social conditions of these periods.

In our literary studies, the period of new Uzbek literature is divided into three literary eras: 1) Uzbek Jadid literature; 2) Uzbek literature of the Soviet period; 3) Uzbek literature of the independence period². At first glance, the basis of this classification appears to be the social conditions of the era, literary generations, and originality in literary thinking and expression. However, it should not be overlooked that the concept of humanity is also at the core of these factors.

Uzbek Jadid literature was established not only by rejecting classical literary traditions but also by presenting a new literary concept of the individual. At the heart of the concept of humanity created by the Jadids are the ideas of national independence and enlightenment.

At the beginning of the 20th century, creative individuals who managed to break free from the influence of traditional patterns began to literary perceive the world in an individual manner. The object of literary contemplation moved from the writer’s heart to the external world. In other words, literature turned towards reality and social life. This naturally required a realistic expression of literary images and depicted events. In this sense, we can view Chulpon’s stories such as “Qurboni jaholat”, and “Do‘xtir Muhammadyor”, Qodiriy’s “Juvonboz” and “Uloqda”, Hamza’s “Yangi saodat”, Ayniy’s “Buxoro jallodlari”, Qodiriy’s novel “Bygone Days”, and Chulpon’s “Kecha va kunduz” not only as the cornerstone of Uzbek prose but also as the foundation of the concept of modern man in our literature. Although the seventy-year period of literary history called “Uzbek literature of the Soviet era” was under the influence of a single ideology and method, it is possible to find different interpretations of the concept of man within it. The reason is that during this stage, creators lived in different periods with varying ideals in political-social and ideological-literary terms.

In the early years of independence, the literary and ideological trend that emerged at the end of the 1980s continued in our national novel writing. At the center of the human concept was the portrayal of a protagonist striving to understand freedom and self-identity, and to completely free himself from the effects of submissiveness. In our opinion, this very issue still remains at the heart of our national novel writing, including the concept of man. To this day, self-awareness and the nurturing of truly free individuals and society continue to be pressing concerns for our novelists.

It is evident that literature is a harmonious, integral product of historical and social conditions, literary thinking, and the concept of man. Evaluating the concept of man is an important key to understanding the essence of a work of art, including a novel.

The section titled “The Concept of Human as the Foundation of Novelistic Thinking” discusses the crucial importance of the concept of man in the emergence and development of the novel genre.

The novel is the genre closest to life, including social man, in terms of its content and expressive possibilities. Indeed, the novel is the only genre that possesses the power to portray a person within the context of holistic social structures, and to depict the relationship between the world and man on a grand epic scale, with all its complexity.

The novel emerged at a time when humanity felt the need to literarily perceive itself as a social entity. From the historical conditions that gave rise to the novel to the factors that ensured its evolutionary development in later periods, from the elements that manifest it as a complete genre to the features that determine its ideological and aesthetic essence, everything is closely linked to the problem of the human concept. In other words, both the form and content of the novel, which centers on the individual, grow out of the historical and social portrait of its main protagonist - the human being. Therefore, by gradually illuminating the historical developmental path of novel theory, it is possible to simultaneously reveal the essence of the genre and demonstrate that the problem of the human concept lies at its core.

M. Bakhtin describes the novel as “the only emerging and yet unfinished genre”¹. For almost four centuries, the problems of the genre have been actively studied by Western scholars (D.Yue, F.Blankenburg, F.Schelling, Jean Paul, F.Schlegel, Novalis, F. Hegel, V. Belinsky, A. Veselovsky, A. Potebnya, B. Grifftsov, D. Lukach, M.Bakhtin, V.Kozhinov, N.Rimar, T.Pavel, etc.). However, a “formula” has not yet been invented that clearly defines and shapes the genre characteristics of the novel.

The opinions expressed in major studies on the theory of the novel are both diverse and common. If the diversity of theoretical views can be explained by the fact that the genre has been regularly formed over the centuries, the commonality can be justified by the fact that the main problem has never changed. That is, for thousands of years, no matter how different the novel may have been, its one, eternal truth - the problem of understanding the modern person (personality) - has never changed. We believe that the truthful and full-blooded evaluation of the nature of the novel is also embodied in the literary concept of man characteristic of the genre.

The destiny of the novel lives in the destiny of man. A novel is a window into the heart and life of man. In fact, human problems concern the novel at the same time. The historical development of the novel is connected with the development of social relations and the formation of personality. In this sense, the periodization of the development of the novel is the same as the periodization of the development of personality.

B.Grifsov lists four stages in the development of the novel. The first is the Greek novel, formed between the 2nd and 12th centuries, the second is the chivalric novel of the 12th-15th centuries, the third is the parodic-chivalric (satirical) novel, formed in Spain from the 16th century, the fourth is a new novel, which first appeared in France in the 17th century and then spread throughout Europe. (Bourgeois novel)¹.

For this reason, the study of the novel in literary studies is carried out in conjunction with the study of man in a historical and social context. That is, the novel is a genre that reflects human problems at different stages of the past and expands its expressive possibilities in order to literary perceive them as the scope of problems specific to this person increases.

In order to better reveal the nature of the genre of the novel, theorists usually compare it with the epic. This is because these two genres, which are very close to each other and which aim at literary reflecting the world on a grand epic scale, are essentially the product of different and, one might say, conflicting stages of human society.

The epic is not a reflection of the real, social world. Epic is a product of the people's ideas about the ideal world in times when social relations were not yet firmly established, and the value of an individual (individual) did not matter. Therefore, the hero of the epic does not have individual personal elements. He is a man in form, and an ideal in essence. The most important factor determining the novel is the image of the person (individual). The novel separated from the epic when the hero began to see the problems, point of view, and character traits of a particular person, or when the subject (author)'s individual (personal) attitude and ironic views towards the reality he describes began to show.

Pierre-Daniel Yue, the author of the earliest work on the theory of the novel, attempts to distinguish between an epic and a novel. According to him, "the epic covers more miraculous reality, and the novel is closer to reality"¹.

Nicola Bualo also emphasizes that the novel differs from epic in that it depicts real life and a real person.

The German thinker F. Blankenburg's treatise "Experiment on the Novel" (1774) is the first work in German literary studies aimed at a systematic study of the novel genre. Unlike Yue, Blankenburg delves deeper into the essence of the matter and illuminates the nature of the novel more broadly from a historical-social perspective. If Yue sees in the novel's protagonist a real-life image of a love story, then in addition to this, Blankenburg sees in the novel's protagonist a person who absorbs the social characteristics of his time, while also being manifested in individual character traits. He writes that in the novel, the hero appears with both his inner and outer world, and that a skilled writer should depict the changes that took place in the psyche of his hero in connection with external reality².

Hegel adds a new meaning to the question of the concept of man in the novel and concludes that the novel depicts man only in a social context - against the backdrop of "prosaic relations". He says that in the novel, as in the epic, there is a multifaceted life and relationships, "a broad, holistic, as well as an epic depiction of the world, as well as events", but there is no "original poetic state of the world". The "first poetic state" is the state of poetry and prose, which are still a whole phenomenon, life has not become a contradiction of these two types (poetry and prose) (Belinskiy), a syncretic (Veselovsky) state of art. That is, according to Hegel, if the past and the art of the past are "poetry", then modern relations have been established, and the new civilization is "prose". In this sense, the novel reflects the "prose stability of existence"³.

In a comparative analysis of the epic and the novel, we see that all the scholars we have considered have almost the same judgment on the problem expressed in different forms or supplemented it relatively. However, by the time of M. Bakhtin, this "tradition" was abolished, and the scholar distinguished between the nature of the two genres and their specific human concept based on the integrity of time and space – chronotope.

The compositional integrity of the epic also lacks the factor of time. Therefore, in the epic concept of man, time is not considered important. That is, the hero of the epic is a complete hero. He did not reach such perfection through the trials of time; his spiritual and physical maturity was not connected to the chronology of time. Therefore, the hero of the epic does not have any sign that corresponds to a real person. It's as if he belongs to another world, to another time dimension. The object of depiction of the epic was the "absolute past" and the corresponding hero.

And the coordinate of time in the novel is not the absolute past, but the present. That is, the writer's sense of time in their existence and their attempt to literary reflect it, first and foremost, caused profound changes in the depiction of the literary image of man. By this time, the concept of a truly new person was born. Therefore, TIME is necessary for the literary expression of personality. After all, the individual is a product of the time. In order for the reader to reach out to the hero of the work - the person, to feel his pain and anxiety, to criticize or laugh at him, it is necessary to live in the coordinate of time with him.

If at the center of the novel, Hegel sees a person who is in conflict with society, then in addition, Bakhtin sees a person who is in conflict not only with society, but also with himself, his psyche, and his fate.

According to him, one of the central problems of the novel is "the character's mismatch with his own fate and position". In this sense, the hero of the novel is always "either higher than his fate or lower than his humanity". That is, it is never complete.

From the gradual study of the research on the theory of the novel, it can be concluded that within the framework of the theory of the novel there is also a gradual development of the literary conception of man. This can be expressed in the following way:

The development of the human concept in the novel

Bakhtin's views on the concept of man may be the most recent and important theoretical judgement on this issue. Bakhtin's chronotope covers the four-dimensional space in which we live.

The second chapter of the dissertation is entitled "Socio-historical Conditions and the Literary Interpretation of Human" and consists of two chapters. The first part of the chapter, entitled “The Collapse of the Shura Society and the Concept of Human”, examines the question of literary thought in the last years of the former Shura regime and its specific concept of human.

The Uzbek novels of the independence period are literally the successors of the novels of the 80s¹. After all, the literary and aesthetic views of most of the writers who are the face of the novel of the new era were formed in the 1970s and 1980s. Moreover, at the beginning of the 1990s, the political and social conditions allowed for the creation of freedom breeze, which actually began during the period of “reconstruction” and “opening”. Similarly, creative experiments in the years of independence: modernist and post-modernist works have their roots in the literature of the 1980s. Therefore, in order to fully study the concept of man in the novels of the period of independence, we feel the need to return to the period when Soviet society began to decline and the need for a new concept of man arose, and to search for the literary, social and spiritual factors of this problem.

In the 1970s, the weaknesses of social realism in the way of truthful depiction of life and the creation of true works of art began to emerge. The creator began to encounter a greater imbalance between Soviet ideology and real life. There was a gradual, if not explicit, deviation from the stereotypes of socialist realism, attempts to create literary concepts of man that did not fit the prevailing ideology.

By 1985, the political and social conditions in the former Soviet Union had changed, and a political stage, known in history as “reconstruction”, began. Accordingly, literary and aesthetic views underwent a fundamental change. On the other hand, “closed doors” were opened for Western literature and art. But most importantly, a huge social need for the creation of a new human concept – DARD (sorrow, sadness) - has matured. Now at the center of the novel is the literary concept of a person who is trying to understand and express themselves.

The novels “Jimjitlik” by Said Ahmed and “Lolazor” by Murod Muhammad Dust were chosen to study the literary interpretation of a person in the last years of the Soviet systems. These two works are very similar in that they were written almost at the same time, the literary reality reflects the same historical period, and the solution to the problem posed in the novels is sought from the ruling political elite and the existing political thought. But although the same social conditions and similar destinies are described in the works, it is important for our research that the two writers have both harmonious and mutually paradoxical interpretations in creating the concept of human.

“Jimjitlik” is literally a novel by an old generation writer, born and raised in the socio-political environment of the former Soviet Union, whose life, literary and aesthetic views were shaped by the influence of communist ideology. Although Said Ahmad is a representative of the older generation, in “Jimjitlik” he seriously criticizes the system that he had previously supported in his other works. However, at the end of the novel, when the author begins to draw conclusions, the main character says that society must return to the true essence of the ideas of Marx and

Lenin, and that he believes that the communism they dreamed of will be created. Of course, these conclusions at the end of the novel can also be seen as “censorship requirement”. But a reader who has read the novel carefully will see that there are many contradictory points in the author’s judgements and conclusions. This circumstance indicates that the writer lacks a clear position and conclusion on the existing reality or more precisely, that the real reality itself is paradoxical.

Unlike Said Ahmad, Murod Muhammad Dust concretizes his conclusions in “Lolazor”. He argues that the cause of all problems lies in the existing political thinking. At the same time, it is unable to offer a clear solution to the problem. However, in a paradoxical society, an educated person understands what position he should take. This is the position of “not living a lie”¹. This means that it is the duty of an intelligent person to spiritually free himself from the influence of a lying system and a manipulative ruling elite, to understand that existing political and social processes are false, and not to contribute to this lie. The essence of this duty lies not only in the objective assessment of reality, but also in the question of self-awareness. In other words, the writer equates a person who realizes that he lives in a false society with a person who realizes that he is himself.

That is why he built the novel “Lolazor” entirely on the basis of irony. For the writer, irony is not just a literary tool, but a human concept - an important foundation of a person who realizes his identity. Therefore, the only proof that a person is above lies is his ironic attitude towards this reality. That is to say, only a person who is not deceived can be sarcastic.

In “Lolazor”, there is a strong attempt to link the causes of the problems in society with the whole political thinking that was formed and lived in various forms during the Stalin era, and to show the evolution of the mentality of the ruling elite. It should be noted, however, that the same movement in our national novel, albeit in a primitive form, began with “Jimjitlik”.

Literary experts point out that Sharov Rashidov, the leader of Uzbekistan at the time (1959-1983), is the real prototype of Shavkat Rahimov, one of the main characters in the novel “Jimjitlik”². Said Ahmad also tries to examine the mentality of the country's greatest leaders, ministers and chairmen of large organizations, and to describe their experiences. In doing so, however, the writer withdraws a little from the reality of life, allowing for one-sidedness. We would like to say that the difference between the novel “Jimjitlik” and “Lolazor” does not lie in the aim of creating a human concept, but first of all in terms of skills. It would therefore be wrong to interpret “Lolazor” as the first novel to reveal the mentality of the ruling elite. The turning point in this respect began with “Jimjitlik”.

The Russian writer Alexander Solzhenitsyn’s essay “Don’t Live in a Lie” is important for our understanding of the social pain in the novel “Lolazor”. Solzhenitsyn says that the primitive politics of the former Soviet Union was based on violence and, in later stages, on a tandem of violence and lies. In particular, this false policy requires the individual not only to obey, but to become a “false participant” in the process. In our opinion, this factor serves as an important key to understanding Murod Muhammad Dust’s concept of human.

Murod Muhammad Dust’s concept of human should also be seen in terms of man’s need for self-realization and self-expression. But what does identity mean in a society built on total politics and lies? According to the idea of the novel, it emerges with the realization that this system is a lie.

At the centre of the novel “Lolazor” are three characters. The following classification by Saidqul Mardon plays an important role in understanding the role and function of these three characters in the content of the novel and the importance of the writer in the concept of man: “Oshno is Iskandar Zulqarnayn, Yaxshiboyev is a barber who could not absorb Iskandar’s horn, I am a well, a deep and winter well”¹. Judging by the fate, actions and character of Oshno, Nazar Yaxshiboyev and Saidqul Mardon, none of them realized and showed their identity at the same time.

No character in the novel can match Nazar Yaxshiboyev’s level of self-awareness. He feels the extent of false politics more than anyone else, from the greatest leader to the fate of a simple shepherd. In fact, this is the problem that tormented the writer - the intellectual of the time, when taken too far, can only see the tragedy and nothing more.

So, we know the fate of Nazar Yaxshiboyev. It can be summed up in one word: impossibility. When he ends his life and sums up his past life, he sees only a dream. He does not know that he has done a good deed, neither in marriage, nor in creativity, nor in his career.

“Lolazor” is a rare work in our national literature that aims to show the understanding of power, the complex psychological changes characteristic of the ruling elite. In this sense, an immortal work is immortal, that “everyone has his time and his friend”². The thinker-writer felt that after the collapse of the USSR, his own political thinking will be transferred to the heirs of the new power, that totalitarian, false politics, created by the fathers of communism at the beginning of the century, will live for many years with such names as “autocracy”, “democracy”, and that his compatriots and linguists “understand the situation of people of another generation, sew their lives into their own life for a very short time, then think, think, think! Though they think with pain and suffering, laughing and crying, they will never do the same thing!”³

It should be noted that Murod Muhammad Dust created his concept of man with extraordinary skill when the great need for time and self-knowledge was ripening. In later periods, no novels like “Lolazor” were written to understand the political system and the ruling elite. There was no need. In fact, we were not that far away from the political culture and socio-political relations depicted in the literary reality of the novel.

In the section entitled “Novels of the Independence Period: a New Man”, the literary concept of man characteristic of the novels of the Independence Period is studied in a comprehensive and gradual way.

In the first years of independence, the Uzbek novel became a field of creative experimentation. The main reason for this was the liberation of literature from ideology, which had been an literary and ideological downfall for several decades. Creators who do not have a clear literary concept of free literature and free man naturally resort to experiments. Different literary concepts of man with different views are presented.

Someone studies existence from a philosophical point of view, interpreting the human concept in terms of modernism and postmodernism, while someone else turns to religious-mystical teachings. Someone interprets man in socio-economic terms, while another relies on national-historical factors. Systematising these observations, the following trends in the creation of the concept of man can be identified separately:

1. To understand independence and a free person by understanding the time of the Soviets.
2. Self-awareness through knowledge of history and historical figures.
3. To understand the market economy and the economic man by evaluating the events of the transition period.
4. Realisation of the perfect man through the study of man in a religious-mystical context.
5. Understanding the absurd human being by absorbing the teachings of the Western philosophers of the 19th century.
6. Understanding man on a global scale by synthesising Eastern and Western thought.

Observations and analyses have shown that the concept of the free human is at the centre of Uzbek novels of the independence period. The author is more interested in a person's will, dignity and honour, which is a natural process characteristic of the thinking of a post-colonial, post-totalitarian society. That is, when a person whose will has been suppressed for many years is freed, he will definitely try to understand this freedom.

The realisation of freedom is a very deep psychological and social problem, and the writer repeatedly refers to this theme because he feels that the signs of “slavery” and “muteness” are still preserved in the social consciousness of society. That is why the literary perception of the events of the Soviet era and the former autocratic regime became the main theme of the novels of the independence period.

During the years of independence, novelists felt the need to return to the landscapes of the past, to reassess events and, in many cases, to compare the past with the present. This trend continued for about 25 years, until the creative activity of the literary generation of the 70s and 80s began to fade naturally. Among such works are “Otamdan qolgan dalalar”, “Bu dunyoda o‘lib bo‘lmaydi”, “Tushda kechgan umrlar”, “Adolat manzili”, “Kapalaklar o‘yini”, “Jaziramadagi odamlar”, “Shovqin”, “Ro‘yo yohud G‘ulistonga safar”, “Go‘ro‘g‘li” and dozens of other novels.

The novels “Shovqin” (2011) by Erkin Azam, “Ro‘yo” (2011) by Ahmad Azam and “Go‘ro‘g‘li” (2012) by Nazar Eshonqul can be cited as the most recent vivid examples of the trend of “Remembering the past”.

The following factors may have prompted the novelists of the time to create their concept of man against the backdrop of the past landscape:

Objective reasons:

a) Censorship.

Under the total control of the Soviet system, the writer could not express the problems of his time. After independence, it was possible to express these problems.

b) Anti-censorship.

During the period of independence, the writer could not express the problems of his time due to the pressure of censorship, and tried to express them through the scenes of the Soviet period.

c) The nature of literary creation.

A certain period and reality can become a truly aesthetic object only when it becomes the past. That is, according to the nature of creativity, the writer usually sums up the path he has travelled, makes an literary perception.

d) The demand for a new ideology.

One of the important tasks of the ideology of national independence was to eliminate the atmosphere of slavery and muteness from the consciousness of society. In this sense, the writer’s approach to the literary perception of the Soviet era can be evaluated as a social order.

Subjective reasons:

a) The need to achieve independence.

If we want to make an impartial assessment of history, we should not ignore the fact that the declaration of independence came unexpectedly to the countries of the former Union. In such a complicated situation, the creators feel the need to understand independence “In their hands”, a free society and a free person. This understanding is achieved by comparing the free society with the dark days of the past.

b) Growth of the writer.

An adult is naturally prone to memory and needs to summarise the past.

c) Scrubbing the past. It is no secret that in the first years of independence our country was in a very difficult economic situation, and the changes that occurred in various aspects of society depressed intellectuals for a while. It is true that at such times society intuitively sands the past, cognitive dissonance, paradoxical mood arises in the psyche of the creator. By creating the concept of a free man, the creator seeks solace for himself and for society.

d) Feeling of “personal shame”.

Another subjective factor of the need for literary perception of the Soviet era during the years of independence may be the overcoming of the feeling of “personal shame” and the writer’s desire to come closer to the new era from a spiritual and intellectual point of view.

It is very difficult for a person who has lived his life to admit that he has been deceived and that many of the things he has done are illusions. Ozod Sharafiddinov’s article “E’tiqodimni nega o’zgartirdim” revealed the same experience among intellectuals.

In this way, a number of novels were written reflecting the sufferings of moysafids who realised that they had devoted most of their lives to a false ideology, including Utkir Hoshimov’s “Tushda kechgan umrlar” (1992), Odil Yoqubov’s “Adolat maznili” (1994), Togay Murod’s “Bu dunyoda o’lib bo’lmaydi”.

In addition to those listed above, a number of generalising trends in the concept of man were also observed in the novels of the independence period. In particular, the writers showed how the attempt to eliminate a person’s personality traits in certain times and conditions can lead to tragic consequences through the concept of a mute person. In particular, Togay Murod’s novel “Otamdan qolgan dalalar” shows the tragic life of a mute farmer and his attempt to understand himself and the fate of his nation.

Another is the concept of the hybrid personality. That is, the writer draws attention to the fact that during the Soviet period the national and identity qualities of the nation were destroyed and “Russianised”. This idea of human conception is particularly evident in the novel “Shovqin” by Erkin Azam.

The trend of writing historical novels is another important phenomenon observed in Uzbek literature during the years of independence. By reviving the ancient and modern history of our people, creating the image of our great ancestors who lived in the past, writers tried to form a national identity that was lost in society during the tyranny.

It is known that “Navoiy”, “Ulug‘bek”, “Yulduzli tunlar” and a number of other historical novels were written during the Soviet period. However, in these novels the concept of the historical character is characterised by the fact that it is formed on the basis of the method of socialist realism. In them, historical heroes are interpreted in accordance with the ideas of communism, from the point of view of Marxist classism. The works contrast the resilient people with the oppressive feudal elite, and the idea that feudalism and religion are to blame for all problems prevails. In this way, literary images of our ancestors were created that were out of proportion to the historical facts. At the time of independence, the writer tried to restore the historical truth.

The concept of the religious man can be found in many works written during the years of independence. Although the novelists did not always make this the main theme, they tried to express their views on religion and religiosity through the example of secondary characters. Such works include “Dinozavr”, “Ming bir qiyofa”, “Tepalikdagi xaroba”, “Muvozanat”, “Isyon va itoat”, “Jaziramadagi odamlar”, “Boqiy darbadar”, “Ozod”, “Alisher Navoiy”, “Yo‘l” and many more novels could be added.

In addition, modern Uzbek novels depict the absurd man, and postmodern novels depict concepts of the global man.

The third chapter of the dissertation is called “Human Interpretation in a Democratic Society” and consists of two chapters. The first part of the chapter, entitled “Conflicts of society and personality in the novels of the transitional period: literary interpretation of the new concept of human”, examines literary thought and the concept of man formed under the influence of the social conditions of the transitional period.

After independence, Uzbek society had to live on the basis of the laws of capitalism, which are completely opposed to socialism, and accordingly it was necessary to redefine its dreams, ideals and goals. This complex process was marked in the new history of Uzbekistan by the name of the transitional period.

The transitional period gave writers the task of understanding the new era, determining the status of the individual in capitalist society, his morals, ideals and goals, in a word, creating a new concept of man.

In all the novels written in the first decade of independence, the socio-spiritual and cultural changes in society during the transition from one regime to another were not described on a large scale. More precisely, this did not become the literary and creative goal of all novelists. Therefore, the novels of the transitional period should be regarded only as works that express the social mood of the times and make the portrayal of the conflicts of the times and personalities their literary goal.

The novels “Dinozavr” by Shukur Kholmirezayev, “Bozor” by Xurshid Dustmuhammad and “Muvozanat” by Ulugbek Hamdam meet the above requirements. We will be able to see in them transitional scenes with all their complexities.

The listed works are valuable for examining the transitional period in the context of the novel, creating a multidisciplinary literary model of society that has entered market relations, and presenting a holistic literary concept of the world and human relations. That is, in these novels, the problems faced by the people of the society during the transitional period, especially the sufferings of the intellectuals, spiritual and spiritual evolution, the causes and consequences of this are written, and these factors ensure not only the success, but also the uniqueness of the novels.

Another important aspect of the novels “Dinozavr”, “Muvozanat” and “Bozor”, which were written almost simultaneously (between 1996 and 1999), for this research is that they created the concept of a citizen of a society based on market relations - an economic man (Homo economicus).

The category of *economic man*¹ is the philosophical basis of capitalism and the economy in general. According to Adam Smith, who created the theoretical foundations of the category of economic man, man acts only in his own interest, and this process is not always conscious. The “invisible hand” leads a person even to blessings he did not seek, thus benefiting him more than his conscious, purposeful actions for the benefit of society”¹. Therefore, when we speak of an economic person, it is a mistake to understand a person who is a slave to his ego and ready to do anything for money. An economic man is also, in essence, a social man. However, it is a theory that seeks to achieve social equality through profit, rather than protecting individual interests. In this respect, the concept of the economic man is opposed to the social man (homo sociologicus). And it is precisely on this fact, on the basis of human needs, that they build the foundations of capitalism.

The peculiarity of novels such as “Dinozavr”, “Muvozanat” and “Bozor” is that the protagonist, originally a social man, gradually becomes an economic man as events unfold. The whole meaning of these novels, the sequence of events like a chain, seems to be subordinated to the image and expression of this evolution.

The main character of the novel “Dinozavr”, Mahkam, is honest, sincere and a very talented writer. A communist who believes that art will save the world, that an ideal society will be built on mutual kindness, justice, equality and solidarity. But because of his simplicity and righteousness, he cannot adapt to capitalist society. Because there is no trace of selfishness in him. The problem is that, like the “fathers” of capitalism, he sees selfishness not as a factor that ensures the balance of society, but as a vice that leads to decline. Because he sees the people around him turning into base creatures because of his ego.

The character of Mahkam represents a person who has not made up his mind about either the old or the new system. He comes across in the work as an impartial observer who is able to correctly assess the achievements and shortcomings of the two eras and is not in a hurry to put one regime above the other, a thoughtful character. At that moment, he was also a person who remained in a state of bliss. In other words, during the transitional period, most intellectuals, like Mahkam, were people who had not fully formed their opinions and were living in poverty. The writer aims to objectively evaluate the new era through the character’s comparison of the past and the present, while creating a realistic image of the intellectuals of the transitional period through the image of a “person in the middle”(“disposed person”).

At the end of the novel, Mahkam begins to study and understand people who have gradually adapted to market relations, and in any case, he feels an incentive for this work in his heart.

Undoubtedly, one of the most brilliant novels of the transitional period is the novel “Muvozanat” by Ulugbek Hamdam. In it, the life of the society is integrated into the literary model. While reading the novel, the reader gets acquainted with the scenes of the transitional period: the social, economic and political situation, the past of the representatives of different classes and branches, the way of life of the young and the old, the village and the city dwellers.

Yusuf, the protagonist of the novel “Muvozanat”, is a historian. He has dedicated his life to learning and spreading knowledge. He put his science above all his interests and made it his life’s guidance. But his life guidance does not fit in with capitalism. Now he is condemned to look for ways to adapt to the new order - the balance of the relationship between spirit and material.

Ulugbek Hamdam builds his literary concept of the universe and man on the basis of four central characters (Yusuf, Said, Miraziz, Amir) and sets them in opposition to each other in the novel. At the same time, they all have something in common: the loss of the psychological balance of life. The aim of the work is to show the ways of finding this disturbed balance, the changes and conclusions that have taken place in the psyche of the heroes along this path.

Yusuf, as the main character of the novel, embodies all the signs of material, spiritual and social imbalance. If Said emphasizes the imbalance between power and spirituality, Miraziz emphasizes the imbalance between materiality and spirituality, and Amir emphasizes the imbalance between faith and action, Yusuf summarizes them all and becomes the main laboratory for creating the writer's concept of humanity. In other words, Ulugbek Hamdam distributes the four important factors characteristic of humanity among the four characters at the center of the novel: enlightenment, money, power and religion.

Fozilbek, the hero of the novel "Bozor", is a virtuous young man. He is concerned that the market, which is a symbol of the world, promotes qualities such as justice, honesty and kindness. He feels that he and his loved ones are not ready for such a new era. Despite sacrificing his life, he tries to reform the "market" (bozor). How to find ways to remain human in a society built entirely on market relations.

"Bozor" was written not in a traditional realistic style, but in a modernist style, and it was built entirely on the basis of symbolism. The writer's attempt to evaluate social relations on the scale of a divine power brings the novel closer to mysticism.

In trying to understand and explain humanity through the market, writer is pursuing a specific ideological and literary goal. He takes the "market model" (bozor modeli) as the basis for his concept of man. Humanity sees this foundation as a symbol of self-interest.

It seems that the novels "Dinozavr", "Muvozanat" and "Bozor" are common works both from the literary and ideological point of view and from the social point of view. They are united by the image of heroes searching for a balance between society and personality, soul and matter, a golden bridge that connects them.

In the chapter "The Literary Conception of a Historical Person in a Democratic Society", the literary interpretation of the image of Alisher Navoi in two regimes and periods is studied from the perspective of the category of human conception.

In the history of our literature, there are few attempts to create a fully-fledged literary image of Alisher Navoi. In works such as "Navoi" by Oybek (novel, 1944), "Alisher Navoi" by Uygun and Izzat Sulton (drama, 1945), "Ishq ahli" by Omon Mukhtor (novel, 2007) and finally "Alisher Navoi" by Isajon Sulton (novel, 2021), the image of the great poet is literarylly interpreted in the centre of historical and social events.

Among the listed works, a relatively complete, conceptual literary image of Navoi's personality is expressed in the novels of Oybek and Isajon Sulton. The period between the writing of these two novels is about eighty years. In these years, the social conditions, the system, the literary and aesthetic views and even the history itself have been updated. Therefore, Isajon Sulton's attempt to reinterpret Alisher Navoi's literary image should be considered not only as a personal creative need, but as the fruit of a universal aesthetic need that has matured in our socio-aesthetic life.

In a historical novel, the writer presents the concept of a historical person (mainly) in the form of a main character. The writer, in his literary interpretation, examines the psyche of the historical person and looks at his complex destiny in the way he knows the world. Through this historical figure, he studies time and space. He promotes social, economic, political, cultural and philosophical views. Therefore, in judging a historical work, it is not the degree to which the past is truthfully recreated that is important, but the existing reality, the way in which the historical person is literarily conceived. That is to say, in a historical work, the human idea of the writer becomes the most important factor that determines both the literary and ideological integrity of the work. This characteristic of the human idea can be clearly seen by comparing the novels "Navoi" and "Alisher Navoi". The historical work created by two writers through the image of a great thinker differs significantly due to the factor of human concept of historical reality. The reason is that although the historical person is the same, the writers' conception of human was different.

When talking about Oybek's novel "Navoi", one should not forget the time, conditions, censorship and ideological pressure in which the author lived. Even if Oybek's genius wanted to, he could not portray Navoi according to his ideal.

Under the influence of socialism and its ideas, Oybek pays more attention to Navoi's philanthropy and love of the poor and emphasises the socialisation of the historical figure. In this regard, O.Sharafiddinov writes that "In creating the character of Navoi, Oybek emphasises that he is a great humanist who expresses his views not only as an writer but also as a thinker"¹.

In the novel, Navoi, as a humanist and representative of the people, is contrasted with medieval feudalism. In Oybek, the relationship between Husayn Boyqaro and Navoi is portrayed somewhat contrary to historical facts under the pressure of ideology. In the novel "Navoi", Boyqaro is portrayed as a liar, an unjust ruler who is influenced by the nobles around him and does not care about the people's suffering. However, it is known from history that during the reign of Sulton Husain, Khurasan developed greatly and a strong state was established in the country.

As a result of the passage of time, the establishment of capitalism instead of socialism, changes in social conditions, the emergence of new interpretations of the world and human relations, the need to recreate the literary image of historical figures naturally arises. In particular, the new historical research, after the historical data have been determined, begins to demand a new attitude in the interpretation of historical figures. Feeling this need, Isajon Sulton tries to create the image of Navoi from different angles.

In the concept of the historical personality of I.Sulton as well as Oybek, special attention is paid to Alisher Navoi's qualities such as humanitarianism, generosity, enlightenment. However, these aspects are not the main factor in creating the image of Navoi in Isajon Sulton. Writer was trying to explore the creative and spiritual world of a more thoughtful poet. I.Sulton was more interested in who Navoi really was as an individual, his experiences, his spiritual world, his thoughts, his dreams, his personal values, his beliefs, his morals.

I.Sulton tries to interpret Navoi's life and work from a religious and spiritual point of view, to show the morality, faith, path and status of the great thinker in the tariqat (The way to know Alloh) and the qualities of sainthood in general.

I. Sulton covers the whole of Navoi's life in his work. There are, of course, serious reasons for this. First of all, Navoi became famous in his youth as a poet in Movarounnahr and Khurasan. Therefore, in order to create a holistic picture of Navoi as a historical figure, it is necessary to describe his childhood and adolescence and to search for the main factors that influenced his development as a poet from this period. Moreover, Navoi's youth is closely linked to Uzbekistan from the point of view of the current world map. During this time, Navoi lived and studied in Samarkand.

In his novel, I.Sulton does not try to portray Navoi as an enemy of the feudal lords. In general, he avoids one-sidedness in the portrayal of Sulton, courtiers, bek and amir. Even officials such as Nizamulmulk, Madjiddin, Muzaffar Barlos, Xadicha Begim, who were historically considered enemies of the Navoi and were responsible for various conspiracies in the palace, are shown to be enterprising in state affairs and discreet, characteristic of high families.

The writer (Isajon Sulton) tries to portray Husain Boyqaro as a just, kind, generous and thoughtful ruler. In Oybek's novel, Navoi accuses the Sulton of leaving behind important state affairs and issuing decrees that cause division among the people, while Isajon Sulton portrays Boyqaro as a ruler who is more concerned with the people's sorrows and affairs of the kingdom.

As we mentioned above, with the passage of time, changes in the system, and social conditions, the need to look at historical reality, historical figures from other angles, and literary interpretation naturally arises. In creating the concept of a historical person, Isajon Sulton originates from today's social, economic, political, and cultural conditions. In this way, a new image of Alisher Navoi is created, which is significantly different from the literary image of eighty years ago that exists in our literature.

It should be noted separately that although Oybek's novel "Navoiy" was written under the pressure of ideology, it far surpasses other works on the subject in terms of writer, compositional integrity and epic scope.

The fourth chapter of the dissertation is called “Synthesis of Eastern and Western Aesthetic Thinking and Human Concept” and consists of two chapters. In the first part of the chapter, entitled “The Concept of Human in Modern Novels”, the concept of man specific to modern Uzbek novels is studied.

With modernism, the attitude towards man has changed, the status of man in existence has been reassessed. Therefore, modernist writers rightly began to promote a new concept of man in literature. The Russian literary critic Y. Borev sums up the modernist concept of man as follows: “Human - in general - is alone; he worries about the impossibility of living in a hostile (Kafka) and restless (Camus) world without social structures”¹.

In order to have a broader understanding of the modernist concept of human, it is necessary to get acquainted with the teachings of the philosopher Friedrich Nietzsche, who seriously influenced the world view of the European peoples and caused intellectual revolutions in the second half of the 19th century. In a word, Nietzsche’s concept of human is based on freedom. Only a philosopher gives a very broad meaning to the word freedom. Nietzsche’s meaning includes not only freedom of body and mind, but also freedom of will. That is, it refers to a person’s freedom from religion, including morality. In this sense, for Nietzsche there is no specific limit to freedom.

While researching modern Uzbek literature, we did not rely only on the ideas of Western modernism, especially Nietzsche and Freud. We tried to look at the new phenomena in our national literature first of all as examples of art derived from the rich cultural heritage and ancient values of the East. At the same time, we did not completely deny the influence of Western philosophy of life and art.

In order to study the concept of man in modern Uzbek novels, this season we have chosen the novels “Ming bir qiyofa” by Omon Mukhtor, “Go‘ro‘g‘li yohud Hayot suvi” by Nazar Eshonqul and “Ro‘yo yohud G‘ulistonga safar” by Ahmad Azam. The reason is that they have in common the expression of the human concept, which has the idea of free will at its core. The authors of these three novels have tried to delve deeply into the mental and spiritual world of a person whose rights were suppressed in the former Soviet period, to describe the complex relations of a person who came into conflict with the system, to show the complications that arose in the next period (system) from the wounds that authoritarian politics left in the human spirit and mind, and at the same time they have tried to create a hero of the past and the present in one person. In other words, the methodological possibilities of modernism allow the author to break the boundaries of time and space and create such an ironic model of social life that the reader begins to see both the past and “today” in the literary reality. It should be said that in these novels the modernist style is effectively used not only in the literary interpretation of the colorful and complex relations between the individual and society, but also as a special “shield” of the ideas and thoughts expressed.

In the early years of independence, Omon Mukhtor was one of the leading writers who began creative experiments and enriched the thinking of the national novel with a modernist style. His novel “Ming bir qiyofa” is considered a work about the suppression of personal freedom and its spiritual consequences during the former Soviet period.

Omon Mukhtor’s novel “Ming bir qiyfa” consists of three parts: “To‘rt manzara”, “Olisdagi odam”, “Afandining bolaligi” and relatively independent stories. The problem of the individual’s spiritual and social freedom is at the centre of the writer’s concept. In a society where any form of freedom is already suppressed, a person is not valued according to his work and abilities (Abdulla Hakim, Burhon Sharif), loses his identity (Gulkhumor), lives in a shell of lies (Nasriddin Efandi), oppression, injustice and greed prevail (Rahim II, Gulam sartarosh (barber)). The saddest thing is that in such a society man is condemned to live like a buffalo, not in his own image, but in a thousand and one guises.

The concept of human that is created in a work of art is, in fact, a product of the time in which the author lived. Therefore, it is a mistake to interpret Omon Mukhtor’s literary concept only in relation to the past. The writer is concerned that his contemporaries are still unable to escape the torture of slavery, muteness and poverty, and that the complex of wounds left by the authoritarian system is still “painful”. By describing the scenes of the past, he is actually addressing the person of today, giving hints and signs.

Nazar Eshonkul, in his novel “Go‘ro‘g‘li yohud hayot suvi”, not only relies on absurdist philosophy, Nietzsche’s and Freud’s views in creating the concept of human, but also follows in the footsteps of mature representatives of Western modernism, such as P.Sartre, F.Kafka, A.Camus, and is creatively influenced by them.

Nazar Eshonkul, like Omon Mukhtor, places the individual’s freedom, worth and honour at the centre of the human concept. If a person does not have these symptoms, he is no different from an animal, he is like a corpse lying in a coffin. In fact, it is not necessary to physically kill or throw a person to death to turn him into an animal. It’s just that his mind is suffocated. In the novel, we see that the factor of thought, which defines the human form, is suppressed. It is noteworthy that the author compares not only certain categories but the whole of society to a mindless “corpse”. They do not realise that they are living in a real “lahad” (grave), there is no one or power that can bring them out of this darkness, there is simply nothing - nothingness... The same ideological-philosophical views expressed in the novel link it to the philosophy of the absurd.

Nazar Eshonkul’s statement about Jean-Paul Sartre’s work that “the characters in his literary works were metaphors for philosophical concepts and views rather than literary heroes”¹ actually applies to his own works. In this sense, interpreting the characters of “Go‘ro‘g‘li” only within the framework of social relations prevents a full-blooded understanding of the novel.

Life, freedom and thought are synonymous in N.Eshonqul's concept of man. It is only in the matter of "freedom" that the writer's views are close to those of Nietzsche. That is, in this concept, the writer considers not only freedom of body and soul, but also freedom of will. In this sense, it is a mistake to limit the interpretation of the novel's literary concept to a particular society, era or system. In fact, N.'s attempt to prove his existence was a rebellion against the entire cultural history of mankind, the foundations of existence and the universe. In this way, the writer builds the composition of the novel on the opposition between the hero and God, the hero and society, the hero and "I".

N. the hero of the novel "Go'ro'g'li", was an absurd man born in an absurd time and place. Unlike his predecessors, including the modernists of our national literature, Nazar Eshonqul creates his concept of man on the basis of existential philosophy. Unlike others, Nazar Eshonqul conceived the absurd man conceptually, based on the philosophical-aesthetic views of Western philosophers and writers, on a grand epic scale, and presented to our literature a unique literary concept of man that had not been seen before.

Ahmad Azam's novel "Ro'yo yohud G'ulistonga safar" embodies a society of people who do not understand their lack of free will, who cannot even imagine the concept of free will, who are chained at birth and consider this slavery an honour. The writer is more interested in the fate of those who live in freedom, in their mental and spiritual world and in their past, than in those who fight for freedom. In other words, the author's literary aim is ironic.

After reading the novel, you will be sure that the author is looking for an answer to an important question in the creation of the concept of man. He wrote the novel at the centre of the question: "Is the highest value for a person prosperity or freedom? In search of an answer to this question, the work pays special attention to describing the scenes of G'uliston's prosperous life.

Freedom is considered the highest value in Ahmad Azam's concept of man. He also compares a person without will to a living corpse. He believes that a person should be free of his own faults, shortcomings and vices, and should be able to express himself as much as possible.

In the section "Postmodern Horizon and the Concept of Human in Uzbek Novels of the Independence Period", the concept of human specific to Uzbek postmodern novels is studied.

In postmodern works, the literary concept of human differs significantly from previous methods. This trend marks the place and task of man in the world, tends to describe him as a frivolous, careless citizen of a meaningless and chaotic world, destroys the experience, values, knowledge and imagination acquired throughout the history of mankind, and decorates the "false world" with lies.

Although we do not consider postmodernism to be such a positive phenomenon, we do not conclude that Uzbek society is completely distant from the social, spiritual and intellectual factors that created postmodernism. In particular, it has been many years since the buds of this unique trend, its characteristic signs and symptoms, began to appear in our national prose.

Speaking of the influence of postmodernism on our national literature, Isajon Sulton's "Boqiy Darbadar" and Ulugbek Hamdam's "Yo'l" deserve special attention. These two novels are united by a number of literary, socio-philosophical factors. In addition, a number of expressive and formal characteristics of postmodernism are manifested in the novels. In particular, signs such as not avoiding the chaotic scenes of the expressed world, the presentation of "small stories" instead of traditional "meta-narratives", intertextuality, genre mutation, at first sight, encourage to evaluate the numbered novels as a product of postmodernism. However, the novels "Boqiy Darbadar" and "Yo'l" deny the main philosophy of postmodernism. In other words, the aim of these novels is to search for meaning in the world, which is seen as nonsense and chaos, and to determine the goal of human happiness.

"Boqiy Darbadar" is a novel about the nature of existence. At the heart of the novel's literary concept is the problem of understanding man in the modern world and defining his goals and tasks in life.

In his novel, Isajon Sulton has created a single model of human history through different historical events, ancient civilisations, prophets, saints, great scientists, ancient cities, ancient works, modern scientific and technological achievements, hypotheses, "texts" characteristic of different directions and views of world philosophy. He tries to create at the point of intersection of these, in which he effectively uses the possibilities of intertextuality characteristic of postmodernism.

Isajon Sulton, in creating the concept of modern man, tries to show as much as possible the chaotic visions of the 21st century man about the world, surfing life and abstract future.

At the centre of Ulugbek Hamdam's novel "Yo'l" is a hero who is searching for the main truth of human existence and the most correct path leading to this truth.

"Yo'l" is a philosophical-metaphorical novel, in which all images and events acquire a certain symbolic meaning related to real reality, the history and future of humanity, morals and values, knowledge and views of existence. In this sense, Ulugbek Hamdam makes extensive use of the possibilities of postmodernism in the creation of his literary concept. That is, he relies on fragments, small stories - intertextuality to create a holistic literary model of the universe.

As we have seen in the novel "Boqiy Darbadar", in the novel "Yo'l" the hero cannot reach his goal. Perhaps the truth to be found will be found along the way.

In traditional methods, the result of the creative process - the finished work - is important, but in postmodernism the creative process itself is important. That is, the creator does not aim to create a final verdict in his literary concept, but rather shows the process as it is. This factor characteristic of postmodernism has points in common with classical Eastern philosophy, but the interpretations here are different.

While listing the paradigms of human history in order, Yuri Borev calls the postmodern (current) era the "Eastern model". According to him: "The paradigm advanced by Eastern cultures does not show the ideals and goals of society's life, but it defines its path with wisdom and entrepreneurship”¹.

Yuriy Borev’s thoughts on the “Eastern model” are also very consistent with the content of the novels “Boqiy Darbadar” and “Yo‘l”. In both novels, the author considers the WAY more important than the complete reality. In the literary concept of the two novels, it is not the image of the destination (ideal) that is understood, but the road that leads to this destination and the journey of the traveller until he reaches it. The main difference between the novels “Boqiy Darbadar” and “Yo‘l” as examples of classical literature is that the heroes of these two novels cannot reach their intended destination. They continue to search for their destination in the face of endless questions and abstract paths.

Although both writers depict the world as chaotic, they place at the centre of their works characters who are searching for meaning in this seemingly absurd world. Although these characters lack the reality of the world in the reality of the work and do not know exactly where they are going, they do not shy away from searching for the right path and giving meaning to their lives. In this sense, the goal of saving humanity from suffering is at the centre of their concept of man.

The son of Professor Ziyov in “Boqiy Darbadar” says, “I see such darbadar people in every country, in every corner of the world, as well as honest and religious people... I am looking for ways to avoid such wanderer”², the hero of the novel “Yo‘l” to Allah when the driver is tired of looking for the best way, he suddenly sees another way: “Where is his only passenger? Is it gone? It’s good to go, the important thing is that there is a way! I say to myself”³. Although the hero could not find the right path and did not understand his destination, he does not doubt the existence of the path of Truth.

In the worldview of Eastern peoples, there have long been indications that the world is meaningless. If we look at the philosophies of Hindu, Chinese and Muslim peoples (Taoism, Confucianism, Hinduism, Sufism), we can see that the world is a transient thing. That is to say, it has always been important to the people of the East that destiny is eternal and the world is transient. For this reason, he sought ideals and meaning outside the real world. Similarly, if he sees meaninglessness in the mortal world, he may also believe that human thought is powerless to perceive true order and wholeness. “An Eastern man – writes Professor Abdugafur Rasulov – believes that all paths lead to faith, truth and acquaintance with Allah. The strongest ideal of the East is that it does not see itself at the centre of the universe. An Oriental can be a person only within his circle, his relatives, his nation, his state. Against the vitality of this idea, the fate of the eternal wanderer is not as terrible as European philosophers have emphasised”⁴. We can see the proof of these words of the scientist in the examples of our modern prose, which, however much it may be updated in form, retains the oriental philosophy of life in its essence. In particular, in Ulugbek Hamdam's and Isajon Sulton's concept of human, there is an attempt to describe the power beyond the human will to understand the world, to describe man as a simple but observing passenger on the wheel of the world.

Eastern thought in the novels "Boqiy Darbadar" and "Yo'l" has completely rejected the Western horizon. While the heroes of our national prose search for the truth of their existence in different ways, the author does not hide that he is unable to present a clear judgement, an ideal. But their characters do not stop searching for this ideal. Therefore, we consider it right to evaluate this factor in modern Uzbek prose as a product of the synthesis of Western postmodernism and Eastern classical philosophy, and to apply the term Uzbek postmodern literature to this phenomenon.

CONCLUSIONS

1. The main purpose of fiction is to understand the world. To fulfill this task, literature places the human being at the center of events. It tests the relationships between the universe and humans in its comprehensive literary model - its laboratory - and draws significant conclusions. The holistic judgment of fiction on the status of humans in the world, their goals and objectives in a certain period, is the concept of man.

2. Each period of human history has emerged as a result of a unique understanding and interpretation of that person's place in existence, their life goals and tasks. The new conditions at a certain stage of history bring with them a new literary concept of man. Therefore, through the category of the concept of man, we have the opportunity to periodize and evaluate literature.

3. Literary thinking develops organically with human thinking. That is to say, the social, cultural, economic and political activities of the human child in history were directly reflected in the literature of that period. In the period of the hunter-gatherer culture, the archaic stage of literature, the traditionalist stage of literature in the agrarian culture and the individual-creative literature took the lead in the scientific-technological culture. This classification is very powerful, each of them can be divided into dozens of parts - periods. Taking our national literature as an example, we can distinguish such stages as the historical conditions and the contemporary literature of the beginning of the 20th century, the Soviet period and Soviet literature, independence and the literature of the independence period.

4. The novel is the most suitable genre for reflecting the idea of man. Because on the stage of history, the development of the genre of the novel runs parallel to the development of the individual. With the development, growth and complexity of human society, the novel has expanded its genre over the centuries. In this sense, the novel is the most unstable genre. However, no matter how different the novel has been for thousands of years, its eternal aim - the problem of understanding the modern man (personality) - has remained unchanged. Since the main problem of the novel is man, the concept of man is the basis of the novel's thought.

5. Major theorists, when defining the nature of the novel genre, focused on the extent to which real social individuals are literary portrayed in the work. That is, important features of the novel as a genre are also manifested through the concept of human nature. Through the category of human conceptualization, it is possible to study the historical development of the novel and draw theoretical and scientific conclusions about the nature of the genre. In this sense, Yue and Blankenburg see the novel genre in the portrayal of the individual's embodiment, Hegel sees it in the embodiment of the individual and their contradiction with society, and Bakhtin sees the novel genre in the portrayal of the individual's embodiment and their contradiction with both society and themselves (polyphony).

6. To fully study the problem of human conceptualization in the novels of the independence period, it is necessary to return to the era when the Soviet system began to decline and a need for a new concept of human nature emerged, searching for literary and socio-psychological factors of this issue in the 1980s. In this sense, Uzbek novels of the independence period are truly the successors of the novels of the 1980s.

7. In the novel "Lolazor" Murod Muhammad Dust creates the concept of human from the perspective of an individual's need for self-awareness and self-expression. He views the level of self-awareness in a society based on totalitarian politics and lies as the refusal to be complicit in these lies. He advances the idea that if the number of people in society who choose not to live by lies increases, the false system will begin to collapse on its own. "Lolazor" is a rare work in our national literature that aims to depict the understanding of power and the complex psychological nuances characteristic of the ruling elite. In later periods, no novels like "Lolazor" were written with the purpose of understanding the political system and ruling elite. There was no need. Indeed, we have not yet strayed far from the political culture and socio-political relations depicted in the novel's literary reality.

8. In the early years of independence, a new society began to be built on diverse perspectives, ideas, and interests. This was reflected in the literary concept of human. Uzbek novel writing became a field of creative experimentation. Writers who lacked a clear literary concept of free literature and a free person naturally resorted to experiments and presented various literary concepts of individuals based on different views and ideas. Some studied existence from a philosophical aspect and promoted the concept of human in the interpretation of movements such as modernism and postmodernism, while others turned to religious and Sufi teachings. However, our analysis revealed that the concept of a free individual is at the heart of Uzbek novels from the period of independence.

9. One of the main themes of the concept of man in the novels of the independence period was the Soviet system and the question of the status of a person living in paradoxical conditions. During the years of independence, novelists felt the need to return to the landscapes of the past, to reassess events and, in many cases, to compare the past with the present. This trend continued for about 25 years, until the creative activity of the literary generation of the 70s and 80s began to fade naturally. Among such works are "Otamdan qolgan dalalar", "Bu dunyoda o'lib bo'lmaydi", "Tushda kechgan umrlar", "Adolat manzili", "Kapalaklar o'yini", "Jaziramadagi odamlar", "Shovqin", "Ro'yo yohud G'ulistonga safar", "Go'ro'g'li" and dozens of other novels.

10. The trend of writing historical novels is another significant phenomenon observed in Uzbek literature during the years of independence. Writers attempted to shape the national identity that had nearly disappeared from society during periods of oppression by reviving the ancient and recent history of our people and creating portrayals of our great ancestors who lived in the past. Writing a novel on a historical theme was, firstly, a personal need and initiative of the creator, and secondly, a social demand.

11. In our view, economic reforms are the factor that has had a significant impact on the social consciousness of society after independence, being the main cause of socio-cultural and spiritual-moral transformations. In other words, the Uzbek people have transitioned from a socialist society to a capitalist society based on a market economy. This, in turn, necessitated a fundamental renewal of the attitude towards individuals, their material and spiritual needs. The novelists of the “transition period”, sensing this necessity, attempted to understand the economic individual through the literary perception of capitalist society.

12. Modern Uzbek novelists did not limit themselves to formal innovations, but also presented a new literary concept of man for their time. A characteristic feature of national modern novels is that the concept of “free man” became the main theme in almost all of them.

13. In the novels “Boqiy Darbadar” by Isajon Sulton and “Yo‘l” by Ulugbek Hamdam, the authors do not avoid the chaotic expression of the world in creating the concept of man. However, both writers place at the center of their works characters who are searching for meaning in a seemingly meaningless world. In this sense, Eastern thought in the novels “Boqiy Darbadar” and “Yo‘l” completely rejects the Western horizon.

14. In the Western postmodernist concept of humanity, a person acknowledges chaos and chooses to live life as it is (meaninglessly), whereas in our national literature's concept of humanity, there is a strong urge to encourage people to escape from what is perceived as chaos and to seek meaning and wholeness in life. Therefore, we consider it appropriate to evaluate this factor in modern Uzbek prose as a product of the synthesis between Western postmodernism and Eastern classical philosophy, and to apply the term Uzbek postmodern literature to this phenomenon.

15. The novels of the independence period have significantly surpassed Soviet-era novels in terms of creative experimentation, literary and ideological diversity, literary perception of the world from various perspectives, and the presentation of a new concept of humanity. Importantly, each wave and literary concept of a person in our novels is the result of specific events, moods, processes, and corresponding needs that have occurred in our social life over the past period.

Целью исследования является поэтапное изучение пути исторического развития узбекских романов с точки зрения категории концепции человека, выявление художественных, социальных, духовных факторов, сыгравших важную роль в художественном и идеологическом формировании романов периода независимости и создать целостный романный портрет человека, характерный для узбекских романов.

Задачи исследования:

доказывая, что концепция человека является центральной проблемой литературы, в том числе жанра романа, рассматривая развитие жанра романа в контексте категории концепции человека;

выявить, что литературные тенденции, характерные для узбекских романов периода независимости, во многом связаны с традициями узбекских романов советского периода, основанными на категории концепции человека; доказать, что узбекские романы периода независимости являются не только эстетическим явлением, но и социально-художественным явлением, основанным на концепции человека;

периодизация узбекских романов периода независимости на основе концепции человека и определения литературных направлений, свойственных каждому периоду;

специальное исследование романов переходного периода как общественно-литературного явления, раскрывающее значение концепции человека в формировании тенденций, свойственных литературе этого периода; выявить влияние социально-экономических условий, типичных для социалистических и капиталистических систем, на художественное мировоззрение и литературные концепции человека в романе;

изучить литературные тенденции, характерные для современных узбекских романов, в рамках концепции человека, изучить экспериментальные применения концепции абсурдного человека в узбекской литературе;

определение узбекского постмодернистского романа и его специфических литературных принципов, основанных на категории концепции человека.

Объект исследования:

Основными источниками являются романы «Навои» Ойбека, «Безмолвие» С.Ахмада, «Динозавр» Ш.Холмирзаева, «Жизнь проведенная во сне» У.Хошимова, «Тысяча лиц» А.Мухтара, «Лолазор» М.М.Доста, «Шум» Э.Азама, «Иллюзия» А.Азама, «Отцовские поля» Т.Мурада, «Гороглы» Н.Эшанкула, «Люди в жару» Л.Борихана, «Равновесие», «Путь» У. Хамдама, «Алишер Навои» и «Вечный странник» И.Султана.

Научная новизна исследования заключается в следующем:

доказано, что категория концепция человека является важнейшим фактором возникновения и развития жанра романа, определение двухтысячелетних исторических этапов жанра, его понимание и объяснение;

доказано, что возникновение узбекских романов напрямую связано с историческими условиями и изменением концепция человека в общественном мышлении, а также необходимостью художественного выражения нового человека в литературе; обосновывается, что упадок советского режима позволил появиться новой концепции человека и создал основу для романа периода независимости;

выявляется неразрывная связь между литературными тенденциями, характерными для романа переходного периода, и исследованиями в главе о социальных условиях и концепции человека, характерной для этого периода;

показывается, что эстетические факторы, создавшие современный узбекский роман, являются не только национальными и социальными явлениями, но и неразрывно связаны с концепцией человека, характерной для западного эстетического мышления и философии;

определяются факторы, определившие возникновение узбекского постмодернистского романа, важные характеристики этого направления и принципы, лежащие в основе его развития.

Внедрение результатов исследования:

Научные результаты, полученные в ходе исследования проблемы концепции человека в узбекских романах периода независимости, нашли свое применение в следующем:

научные выводы диссертации использованы в работе над научно-техническим проектом № ОТ-А1-46 по теме «Создание учебной литературы нового поколения по теоретическим курсам литературной критики». Диссертация содержит иллюстративные материалы к терминам роман, концепция, художественный замысел, художественный образ, типы художественного образа, образ человека, включенным в Словарь литературной критики. Эти материалы были использованы для объяснения терминов, включенных в словарь (справка Андижанского государственного университета от 11 сентября 2024 г. № 32-01-837). В результате важные литературоведческие термины по разделу «Литературная критика» обогащены дополнительными научными пояснениями;

Научные выводы диссертации были использованы в проекте под названием «Эмоциональность как категория художественного текста и важный фактор, обеспечивающий его эмоциональную сущность», подготовленном на кафедре «Азербайджано-Туркменистан-Узбекистанские литературные связи» Литературного института имени Низами Гянджеви Республика Азербайджан (Литературный институт имени Низами Гянджеви АМЕА, 23 сентября 2024 г., № 041-178). В результате выявляются эмоциональные характеристики литературного героя и факторы, выражающие это эмоциональное состояние;

из научных выводов диссертации для общеобразовательных школ 6 класс «Литература» (Мирзаева З., Джалилов К. 2022), 7 класс «Литература» (Мирзаева З., Джалилов К. 2022), 10 класс «Литература» (З.Мирзаева, К.Джалилов. 2022) в создании учебников, в частности, в освещении таких тем, как литературный герой, литературный образ, анализе романов и рассказов. Это используется при совершенствовании учебных задач в рамках предметов (справка №01/11-01/6-196 от 31 марта 2023 года Республиканского управления образования Центр при Министерстве дошкольного и школьного образования). В результате учебники обогатили методы раскрытия читателю понятий литературного героя и литературного образа; Теоретические выводы диссертации, такие как узбекский роман периода независимости, литературный герой, литературный образ и концепция художественного произведения, были использованы в Национальной учебной программе по литературе, подготовленной Министерством дошкольного и школьного образования в сотрудничестве с ЮНИСЕФ (01-31 марта 2023 г.
